HHH Backed By McCarthy

By JACK BELL

Washington (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., endorsed Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidency Tuesday but left his own political future clouded in a smoke screen of vague answers.

McCarthy said in announcing he would vote for the man who defeated him for the Democratic nomination, that he would not seek re-election to the Senate in 1970 as a "candidate of my party" nor would heseek the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

In a formal statement, the Minnesota senator fired fresh criticism at party leaders' handling of the Chicago convention. He said he would not ask young peple to stay in the party in another election "unless there has been change" in its organization.

Intentions Unclear

Told by reporters that his formal statement left his future political intentions unclear, McCarthy replied with the air of a man who wanted it that way: "That's the way it is."

Did he intend to leave the Democratic Party and possibly run for the Senate on another ticket? "I didn't say that," McCarthy said.

Was he saying he wouldn't run for the Senate or the presidency again? "No, I'm not saying that."

Reluctance

McCarthy's endorsement of Humphrey was marked with the reluctance he has displayed in refusing his support to Humphrey since the stormy August party convention.

He said he is backing Humphrey because of the latter's record and what the nominee has said about domestic problems in this campaign. He said Humphrey is his choice over Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee.

"Hubert Humphrey has shown a better understanding of our domestic needs and a stronger will to act than has been shown by Richard Nixon," McCarthy said.

'Possibility'

He added that "with Hubert Humphrey as president, the possibility of scaling down the arms race and reducing military tensions in the world would be much greater than it would be with Richard Nixon . . ."

Disregarding the reservations, Humphrey accepted this watered down endorsement with outward enthusiasm.

"I'm a happy man this morning in terms of his support," Humphrey said in Pittsburgh, where he was campaigning. "I say thank you, Gene."

The Democratic nominee said he thinks McCarthy's backing will have "a decided effect" on the outcome of the election.

L.A. Area Rally

One immediate plus for Humphrey was McCarthy's announcement that he would speak for the nominee at a party rally in the Los Angeles area Wednesday night. Previously the senator has campaigned for antiwar candidates for the Senate and House, without mentioning Humphrey's name.

California appears a critical state in Humphrey's efforts to keep Nixon's electoral vote total below the 270 necessary to win the presidency.

Humphrey said "there are a lot of Democrats coming back to the party" and that McCarthy's decision would help that movement.

'Significant'

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence O'Brien said McCarthy's endorsement is "a significant contribution to the last week of the campaign."

McCarthy made it clear, however, that Humphrey had not satisfied conditions the senator had laid down early in October for backing the ticket.

These were, as the latter enumerated them: "The ending of the war in Vietnam, the demilitarization of United States goverment policy and the reform of the draft laws so as to make them responsive to individual conscience."

NU Students Take Time For Discussion Of Issues

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

University of Nebraska students Tuesday participated in a splash of issue-oriented activities keyed to the discussion of racism, politics, the urban crisis, the draft and campus concerns.

Music and films completed the panorama marking "Time Out," the Lincoln campus' version of a national day of student concern suggested by the National Student Association.

In one discussion session with students, the two First District congressional candidates seeking to unseat Republican Rep. Robert Denney generally agreed that a change of emphasis is needed in U.S. foreign policy.

Decrease In Aid

Democratic nominee Clair Callan pointed to a decrease in foreign economic assistance as U.S. military spending in Vietnam rose to $30 billion a year.

Once the war is ended, that money will not necessarily be available for use in rebuilding U.S. cities or assisting other nations, he noted.

"The country hasn't made up its mind it wants to accomplish these things," Callan said.

'Out Of Hand'

New Party nominee Bruce Hamilton said U.S. foreign policy has "gotten out of hand," becoming simply a military foreign policy "causing more disruption and more war."

The U.S. must alter its priorities in foreign policy, he said, and attack the dual problems of racism and poverty at home.

Denney was unable to attend the discussion due to previous commitments.

"It would have been smart politics for me to stay home too," Callan noted. Denney, he said, "stayed home with good reason" while Callan helped provide a forum for Hamilton.

In a brief discussion of student power, Callan urged young people to work within the political process to seek the changes they demand.

It would not be very difficult for young people to gain practical control of one of the two regular political parties in Nebraska, he said.

Hamilton said students should seek and exert power through lawful processes. He said he is "highly opposed" to the violent and illegal means used on some campuses.

Ag Disagreement

The two candidates disagreed on agricultural policy. Callan supports the present feed grain program and wants it renewed, along with enactment of a strategic reserve program. Hamilton said new farm legislation is needed because the present program "has not been successful."

In a separate discussion, an associate professor of education at Antioch University told students the draft is "a primary instrument which controls your life."

The draft "pursues you," Dr. Paul Lauter declared.

"Because of it, you cannot go to San Francisco for a year to view the scene, or go lumberjacking for a year, or spend a year with your girl somewhere . . . or go paint," he noted.

'Resist' Head

To change that system, if students wish to change it, will be "painful," he warned.

R. Duane Ferre of Rochester, N.Y., told students about his experiences in seeking — and failing to gain — conscientious objector status after he was commissioned in the Air Force.

Ferre served 1½ years in Leavenworth Penitentiary for refusing to obey commands to continue his "combatant type" duties in the Air Force.

Changes in that system may require civil disobedience, he said.

Thieu Agrees To Formula For NLF To Enter Talks

. . . PROPOSAL USES SEMANTIC DISTINCTIONS

© New York Times Service

By GENE ROBERTS

Saigon — The South Vietnamese government was selecting a team of negotiators Tuesday for the peace talks in Paris, apparently on the assumption that North Vietnam might soon accept the latest U.S. bombing halt proposals.

President Nguyen Van Thieu decided to form the team, according to highly placed sources in Saigon, after quietly agreeing with the United States on a way in which both South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front of the Viet Cong could be seated at the peace talks.

Semantics Used

The seating proposal makes maximum use of semantic distinctions. It would, in effect, give both the South Vietnamese government and the NLF significant representation at the talks, but allow each to ignore the existence of the other.

The Saigon sources emphasized, however, that it was not known definitely here that Hanoi would accept the seating plan as part of a general de-escalation agreement that would clear the way for "serious" peace negotiations.

In recent days, there has been speculation in both Saigon and Paris that a major obstacle to a conditional bombing halt has been South Vietnam's insistence that the NLF could not be represented as an organization at the Paris talks.

This would be resolved, from South Vietnam's point of view, under a proposal that is said to have been worked out in conferences between U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Thieu.

The complex, semantic plan would allow South Vietnamese and United States negotiating teams to sit side by side at the peace talks, while giving the opposing side the option of regarding them as a single delegation.

The Communist side, for its part, could bring an enlarged delegation to the table and call it two delegations, a joint North Vietnam-NLF delegation, or anything it chose.

Single Red Team

However, the United States and South Vietnam would view the opposing negotiators as a single delegation representing "the aggressors from the North." South Vietnam would talk to the North Vietnamese delegates but not to any delegates who referred to themselves as NLF representatives. The United States would talk to any of the delegates but consider them officially as representatives of the North and not of the NLF.

The South Vietnamese representatives would be accepted by the United States as a fully autonomous delegation, no matter what the opposing sides choose to call it.

South Vietnam would have the right to make whatever points it wanted to make at the peace talks and would maintain a separate delegation office and communications system.

The new seating plan, Saigon sources said, is flexible enough to give all parties freedom to do what they want to do. It is also flexible enough, they quickly added, to allow each opposing side to repudiate the nomenclature used by the other.

President, Abrams Meet In Washington

Washington (AP) — President Johnson met secretly Tuesday with Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, but a White House spokesman said there was "no breakthrough" or change in the Vietnam situation or Paris negotiations.

Abrams had left to return to Vietnam when the White House announced his visit for a "general military review of the situation in Vietnam."

Presidential press secretary George Christian said it was decided over the weekend that Abrams should come to Washington, rather than have the President meet him someplace between here and Vietnam as had been previously considered.

Johnson and the top commander of U.S. forces in the war zone conferred Tuesday at the White House. Abrams met with Pentagon officials, and then joined the regular weekly luncheon at the White House of top military and diplomatic officials.

The group at the luncheon session included Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, CIA Director Richard Helms, presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Christian and the deputy press secretary, Tom Johnson.

Dry Cleaning And Laundry Training Inaugurated By Goodwill Industries

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Dry cleaning and laundry programs were added to the work training and rehabilitation services of the Lincoln Goodwill Industries this week.

New equipment, purchased with a grant from the Rehabilitation Service Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, became fully operative Monday to begin training handicapped men and women for the dry cleaning and laundry businesses.

"There is a great demand for experienced people" in these work areas, reported Goodwill executive director John P. Gedwillo.

Five Can Work

As many as five persons can work with the equipment at one time in training programs ranging from three to six months, depending on the individual, he explained. A former owner of a dry cleaning establishment, Maynard Zimmerman, is supervising the training and work.

Although the prime consideration of the State Division of Rehabilitation Services in approving the application for federal funds was the provision of training with up-to-date equipment, the new facilities also have provided Goodwill with means to prepare soiled clothes for sale in its three stores.

Previously clothes were sold without laundering or dry cleaning and extremely dirty articles had to be sold for rags or thrown away, noted Goodwill board president Leland Holdt.

Several Machines

The equipment, installed on the third floor of the Goodwill Industries at 1717 O St., includes dry cleaning machines, a spotting board, steam air cabinet, washers and dryers, two pressers and other ironing apparatus.

It was purchased and installed with a $20,720 federal grant, matched with $5,100 in local funds. Part of the money was used for the second year's salary of a placement counselor.

Persons in both the work training program and the Goodwill workshop program for those who probably will never be able to work in competitive industry will be involved in the dry cleaning and laundry work, according to Gedwillo.

A total of 43 persons trained in other programs were placed in jobs outside Goodwill Industries during the first nine months of the year, he reported. Thirteen of those were placed last month, more than double the normal average of six placements per month.

Battleship's Guns Silence Antiaircraft Fire In DMZ

Saigon (AP) — The battleship New Jersey for the second time within a week has turned its 16-inch guns on the demilitarized zone and with other warships and planes delivered one of the heaviest blows in a month, the U.S. Command said Tuesday.

The action began Monday with saturation-type raids by 30 of the eight-engine B52s, the other powerhouse in the U.S. arsenal, on the zone dividing the Vietnams, and the region just to the north.

When U.S. Marine fighter-bombers followed up with attacks on the North Vietnamese half of the zone, they came under intense ground fire.

The New Jersey was called in and directed its 2,700-pound shells at the eastern sector of the zone until they silenced nearly all enemy fire, the U.S. Command said. Reconnaissance flights showed the shells destroyed at least one antiaircraft site.

The New Jersey went into action for the first time in support of ground action last Friday, when she destroyed bunkers in the demilitarized zone. Since taking station in the Gulf of Tonkin Sept. 30, the New Jersey has been used chiefly to shell targets in North Vietnam's panhandle.

Monday was a busy day over the panhandle for Air Force, Navy and Marine jet fighter-bombers. They flew 139 missions. It was their busiest day since Oct. 3, when they logged 143 missions.

Supply Lines Hit

"The attacking crews continued to concentrate on road and river traffic, interdicting the southward flow of supplies and material," a U.S. communique reported.

U.S. planes struck anew at targets in the panhandle Tuesday and more raids were planned for Wednesday.

As the lull on the battlefields continued Tuesday, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met again with President Nguyen Van Thieu, and then failed to show up for a dinner party to which he had been invited by American correspondents.

HHH 'A Happy Man'

Philadelphia -- "I am a happy man this morning," Humphrey said after hearing that Sen. McCarthy had endorsed him. (More on Page 1.) But by afternoon his mood had been deflated by tiny crowds in rain-soaked Pittsburgh and restive college students in Bethlehem, Pa.

Nixon Keeps Up Attack

Syracuse — Richard M. Nixon kept up his running attack on Vice President Humphrey. He called him incapable of unifying the nation and a purveyor of "cheap" and personal political attacks.

Education Chief Makes Move

New York — Dr. James E. Allen Jr., New York state education commissioner, moved to end the city's teachers' strike by offering to appoint a state trustee to oversee and direct the controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville school district. There was no formal reaction from the teachers' union, but in the past its president, Albert Shanker, had said "it is not in a question of who is in paper charge of the district."

RFK Foundation Aims To Be Living Memorial

Washington (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., announced Tuesday the creation of a Robert F. Kennedy foundation to work in areas of poverty, crime and education as "a living memorial" to his assassinated brother.

The $10-million foundation, to be called the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial, will be "an action-oriented program that we think will carry on his concerns, his actions, his efforts to work on so many of the problems in this country that have no solutions," Kennedy said.

He made the announcement at a news conference on the sprawling back lawn of Robert Kennedy's McLean, Va., estate, Hickory Hill.

He was flanked by his sisters, Patricia Kennedy Lawford and Jean Kennedy Smith, and surrounded by dozens of family friends and aides.

Widow's Statement

Robert Kennedy's widow, Ethel, did not appear, but she said in a statement that she feels the memorial will "carry forward the ideals and carry on the work so important in the life of my husband."

"He wanted to encourage the young people and to help the disadvantaged and discriminated against both here and abroad, and he wanted to promote peace in the world," she said. "These will be the goals of the memorial."

No specific foundation projects were outlined but Kennedy said there will be an announcement "of some significance within the next few weeks."

"Rather than itself attempting to solve any given problem," Kennedy said of the memorial, "it will seek to bring together on a case-by-case basis the resources, people and organization necessary for a continuing attack on it."

Memorial funds, which will be raised through donations, will be used on projects in the areas of poverty, education, housing, crime and violence in this country and poverty and hunger abroad, Kennedy said.

Robert S. McNamara, former secretary of defense and now president of the World Bank, will act as chairman of the executive committee of the memorial. Thomas J. Watson, chairman of the board of IBM, is finance chairman and Frederick G. Dutton, former assistant secretary of state under President John F. Kennedy, is the memorial's director.

Kennedy said there had been a great deal of discussion since his brother's death in June as to just what kind of memorial would be best.

Among the suggestions, he said, were fellowships, community organization work among the poor, special schools, international projects and awards for achievement.

"The Robert Kennedy Memorial decided upon combines these different suggestions in a way which we believe meets all the relevant tests," Kennedy said.

"It will be the aim of the memorial to work as he did — as a catalyst in the solution of pressing public problems."

Stolen Missile Said Shipped From Germany To Moscow

© New York Times Service

By RALPH BLUMENTHAL

Bonn — The West German government disclosed Tuesday that a Sidewinder air-to-air missile stolen from an Allied base in West Germany had been trundled off in a wheelbarrow, driven more than 100 miles across the country with its carpet-draped nose sticking out of a car window, and then shipped by air freight to Moscow.

Ludwig Martin, the federal prosecutor, also revealed that the theft, which occurred last year, was first discovered when a sergeant in the German army was sent out by his wife to pick parsley in a garden adjoining the Zell air base at Neuburg on the Danube River.

The three men who stole the 9½-foot-long, 165-pound missile are now in West German custody, Martin said.

Nation In Uproar

The disclosures by Martin come at a time when this espionage-conscious nation is already in something of an uproar. Recent events include three apparent suicides — one an admiral — the arrest of four suspected agents, and the escape of six suspected agents to Communist East Germany.

It was announced Monday that Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and Vice Chancellor Willy Brandt would personally take charge of coordinating the security and intelligence services. Kiesinger, who is on a state visit to Spain, Tuesday called for an urgent report on West German security.

Government spokesman have said — and Martin reasserted it Tuesday — that there was no proof as yet that the suspected espionage cases are related.

Used Wheelbarrow

The federal prosecutor called a news conference to make his disclosures about the missile theft. He said that the three men had left a wheelbarrow just outside the barbed wire of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization air base and that while one of them — identified as "Mr. X" — waited outside, the two others climbed a fence and broke into the base magazine.

The men then cut a hole in the barbed wire and hauled out the missile, Martin said. When it didn't fit into their waiting car, he said, they smashed the rear window and covered the exposed nose with a carpet.

They then drove to an undisclosed location, dismantled the rocket and sent it, in a special case and a suitcase, to Moscow by air freight.

Martin did not say at what time the theft occurred or why it went unnoticed by guards.

The arrested men, in addition to the German Mr. X, were identified as Wolf Diethard Knope, a 33-year-old flight sergeant and Starfighter pilot in the West German air force, and Josef Linowski, a Polish-born mechanic.

Rise In Living Costs Tapering Off Slightly

Washington (AP) — This year's climb in living costs — the steepest since the Korean War — tapered off slightly to a more modest rise of two-tenths of one per cent last month, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

The government's Consumer Price Index, at 122.2, showed it cost $12.22 in September for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 base period.

Prices of groceries, used cars and home mortgage interest rates dipped in September, while clothing, housing and medical costs rose.

"The peak of the inflationary surge is past," said Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

But he predicted higher monthly rises the last quarter of this year which are almost certain to push the total 1968 boost in living costs to more than four per cent. That would be the highest since the eight per cent jump in 1951 before Korean War wage-price controls were imposed.

The September rise of two-tenths, smallest in a year, compared with average monthly increases of more than three-tenths so far in 1968.

Vietnam War Still Defies Fast Solution

By JOHN T. WHEELER

World News

Saigon (AP) — Despite months of unprecedented battlefield savagery, the allied war machine in 1968 has been unable to rumble to within sight of victory.

There have been many plus signs in the military and political spheres, but senior U.S. officials believe they can forge ahead to victory only if given time, a lot of time.

Thus as the American election campaign draws to a close, diplomats, U.S. sources and government officials say the Vietnam war still defies a simple, quick solution for Washington short of a U.S. pullout or a conference table agreement.

The major concern voiced here by Vietnamese officials is that the war may be lost in the United States, that the new administration may bow to internal pressure to settle it quickly at the best price possible. Some senior Americans privately voice the same fears.

U.S. officials always have been optimistic about the war, sometimes without too much basis as events later proved. No one is making public predictions here now, but optimism is voiced in moderate terms from many quarters.

So far this year the allies claim to have killed 166,200 enemy. Counting the 13,600 government soldiers and militiamen killed so far in 1968, the allies have slain about six enemy for each one of their own lost if body count figures are accurate.

Reds Blundered

A senior American, who has spent years in Vietnam, believes the Communist leadership blundered, perhaps fatally, in 1965 when it opted for massive attacks in conventional warfare that favored American firepower.

This official was one of the sharpest critics during the days the war was going badly here. Now he sums things up this way:

None of the old problems has been solved. The government is weakened by nepotism, corruption, incompetent officials, timid field commanders. What has improved the situation is that the war has changed from an insurgency, with which American troops never could come to grips, to a North Vietnamese invasion. The North Vietnamese are disliked in the South, strangers to the country they must operate in, weak in both strategic and tactical intelligence and wholly dependent on conventional lines of supplies. When they hit, they hit in mass where American firepower can tear them to bits. Their morale has fallen and leadership is vastly weakened by battle casualties.

Viet Troops Better

American senior officers believe government troops at last are improving. The improvement is spotty and uneven, but there.

U.S. tactical intelligence has grown steadily better.

The enemy has run no major countrywide offensive since the U.S. Command shifted from Gen. William C. Westmoreland to Gen. Creighton W. Abrams.

Abrams is a staunch booster of the pacification program, the plan to win the countryside over to the government. Despite impressive statistics from the American advisory system, pacification is making doubtful headway.

A key man in the program says in fact there is little pacification per se, but rather military occupation.

One of the brighter spots is on the political front. Each of the many regimes that have come and gone since the French defeat started with all the popularity it was to achieve, went into decline and finally was removed, usually violently. President Nguyen Van Thieu reversed this trend by entering office in a weak position and steadily improving his political base.

Czechoslovaks Demonstrate Anew Against Soviet Union

Police and militiamen pushed back the young people who came to the Slovak national theater to cheer the nation's liberal leaders.

The government chiefs are visiting this Slovak capital on the second day of Czechoslovakia's celebration of its 50th anniversary as a republic.

A column of marchers, led by a man carrying a sign with the French word "liberte" — freedom — moved through the city, stopping at half a dozen places where Slovaks were killed during the Soviet-led invasion in August. The marchers lit candles as memorials and sang the national anthem.

Nixon Confused About Address Of White House

Warren, Mich. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon had a bit of address trouble Tuesday, the address being that of the house he wants to move to after Jan. 20.

Nixon mentioned this ambition at a Republican rally in Warren, and said he wants to move to 1400 Pennsylvania Avenue. The White House is at 1600.

The 1400 Pennsylvania Avenue address is that of the now defunct Willard Hotel, which has been leased as a Nixon campaign headquarters.

Moscow (AP) — Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy spent his fourth day in orbit in Soyuz 3 Tuesday without announcement from ground control of any spectacular feats, deepening the mystery about the purpose of the Soviet Union's first manned space flight in a year and a half.

Beregovoy was shown in a television broadcast making notes while occupying his usual seat in the instrument cabin. He reported his spaceship was working normally and his health continues good.

Grain Sorghum Harvest Reaching Record Yields

. . . 80 Bushels Per Acre And Upward Common

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Nebraska farmers are making more stops than usual with their mammouth self-propelled combines as the grain sorghum harvest is setting record yields in many localities.

Yields of 80 bushel per acre and upward are common and the rule for many fields. A bad field can usually be blamed on weeds competing wtih the crop of aphid damage last summer which went on a hit or miss route sometimes taking part of a farmer's crop and at another farm a mile away leaving the milo crop undamaged.

With farmers taking advantage of good weather the grain sorghum has been reaching elevators at such a pace that only outside piles can accommodate the fast influx of the harvest that reaches many Nebraska communities.

"Just sell it as it goes across the scales," or "We want to sell this pretty soon," are comments heard from the country elevators

Many farmers believe the $1.51 or thereabouts that is being offered at country points per hundredweight for grain sorghum is the best price they will see with the large amount of milo being harvested.

"This price is above the loan, and with rumors out that Commodity Credit Corporation might be short of money in an election year I better take what I can get," said one farmer commenting on the fact he had just sold his milo.

Assurance that adequate funds would be available after Jan. 1, 1969, to meet farmers' demands for loans would probably cause many farmers to wait longer before placing their crop on the market, said other farmers.

Ballet By Bartok Adds To Symphony Opening

By RUTH ARDIS

Under the direction of Leo Kopp, the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra opened its fourty-third season Tuesday night at the Stuart Theater. Composers of the Romantic Period — Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, and Wagner — were featured, with Bartok's "The Miraculous Mandarin" providing an exciting dimension to the evening's performance.

The orchestra played well, and everything points to a successful season.

The "Manfred" Symphony by Tchaikovsky was the major work of the evening. Based on a poem by Byron, the story of Manfred's wanderings provides a framework for the soaring melodies and sweeping climaxes characteristic of Tchaikovsky's music.

Harmonies 'Muddy'

While the lush harmonies were sometimes "muddy," and the Scherzo (imitating the Alpine fairy) was too "flighty" to be coherent, the performance on the whole was apparently enjoyed by the symphony patrons.

Not all seemed equally appreciative of "The Miraculous Mandarin." Bartok's ballet, although composed in 1919, was not performed in this country until 1951 because of its lurid plot.

The concert version is truly a virtuoso piece for orchestra, making great demands on the players and conductor. The varied rhythms and jagged melodies were well played, and accolades should go to Wesley Reist for his fine performance of the enormously difficult clarinet cadenzas.

The concert opened with Beethoven's "Overture to Fidelio" and closed with the "Prelude to The Mastersingers of Nuremburg" by Wagner.

Little attention is sometimes paid to the Lincoln Symphony Association's efforts to bring good music to the young people of the community. Four concerts for fifth and sixth graders and junior high students are presented each year.

The teachers in the public schools assume the responsibility for preparing the students for perceptive listening by the use of recordings and reports on composers and the works prior to the actual concerts.

Capacity Crowd

Tuesday morning a capacity crowd of junior high students had the opportunity to hear virtually the same program as was presented at the evening concert.

Conductor Kopp gave a brief but interesting program notes of each work.

At the end of the concert, when he asked how many liked Bartok's "The Miraculous Mandarin," every hand went up. It was obvious that this work was the young people's favorite.

It is doubtful if a similar question put to the evening audience would have met with the same success.

Forty Said Dead

Esmeraldas, Ecuador (AP) — At least 40 persons died aboard the motor ship Rio Esmeraldas which sank after a fire, unofficial sources reported Tuesday.

Million Dollar Behlen Plant Expansion Set

Columbus (UPI) — The Behlen Manufacturing Co. announced Tuesday afternoon the beginning of its second million dollar expansion program since the spring of 1966.

A spokesman said recent growth and diversification of the firm's product line was responsible for the action.

The latest expansion will add 215,514 square feet of manufacturing space to the existing facility. Upon completion Behlen production and administration will occupy a total of 826,559 square feet.

Woman's Body Found In Home; Blaze Is Probed

North Platte (AP) — The body of a woman, tentatively identified as that of Juanita F. Bitterman, about 43, was found in a bathtub by firemen called to her home shortly after noon Tuesday, according to Lincoln County Attorney Walter Mullikin.

The county attorney said that remains of clothing were found on the body.

He added that the cause of the fire, which was confined to the rear of the home, was not immediately determined.

Mullikin said an investigation was continuing.

Hanna Supports State Income Tax

Alliance (UPI) — The president of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association has urged Nebraskans to vote against the amendment to abolish the state income tax.

Bob Hanna, Valentine, said that only the person with a very high income would be helped by eliminating the income tax. This, he said, would be at the expense of those with modest income.

"A family of five with an annual income of $6,000 won't pay any state income tax anyway under the existing law," Hanna said.

Inman Crash Kills Storjohn

Storjohn's truck was in collision at an intersection on U.S. 275 with a car driven by Mrs. Joan Thramer of Uehling. Storjohn was northbound and Mrs. Thramer eastbound.

Storjohn was thrown from the pickup on impact.

Girl Loses Hand Due To Mishap

Mary Ellen Fenske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fenske, was helping her brother, John, grind feed for cattle when the machine became clogged and she attempted to get the feed out of the machine.

The girl was reported in good condition at a Norfolk hospital where she is also being treated for injuries to three fingers on her left hand.

Accreditation Said Favorable For Central Voc Tech School

Hastings (AP) — Initial steps in the accreditation of Central Nebraska Vocational-Technical School were reported favorable to the governing body at its monthly meeting here.

Dr. Chester Gausman, superintendent, gave a report on the recent visit to the school by Harold Mathews, dean of occupational education at Jackson, Mich.

Dr. Gausman said Dean Mathews had assured him his report to the accreditation committee would be favorable. This is the first step toward accreditation of the school.

Gary Swanson, registrar and director of placement at Central Tech, said 59% or 66 graduates from the first class had been placed in positions. He said 14% were continuing their studies, 19% had entered the military and 8% were unreported.

Swanson also said that 92% of those placed on jobs remained in the area served by Central Tech, while 5% stayed in Nebraska and only 3% had left the state.

Ex-Clerk Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Embezzlement

Chadron (AP) — Former Chadron City and Water Clerk Vivian Linden, 43, pleaded guilty in District Court to a charge of embezzlement of public money.

According to the complaint and information filed by Dawes County Attorney Bevin Bump, $27,512 was taken from city funds. He said the embezzlement covered a period from Aug. 1, 1964, to Aug. 22 of this year and occurred in the sanitation and sewage funds.

District Judge Robert R. Moran of Alliance ordered a pre-sentence investigation and set another appearance for Nov. 25.

She was released on her own recognizance after waiving preliminary hearing.

Boy's Illness Not Encephalitis, Physicians Reveal

York (AP) — A 10-year-old York boy does not have encephalitis as had been originally feared, the York Medical Association said Tuesday.

A spokesman said the boy, who is at the York General Hospital, is showing improvement.

Dr. Lynn Thompson, director of the State Department of Health, had been alerted of the possible case and had sent an epidemiologist and a state veterinarian here to investigate the case.

Increased Competition In Air Service Sought

. . . Between California, Midwest

Omaha (AP) — Representatives of California cities Tuesday called for more competitive airline service between their cities and the Midwest.

The requests came from representatives from Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland.

A similar call was sounded by spokesmen from St. Louis, Mo.

The cities were among a score of communities which submitted testimony to Civil Aeronautics Board Examiner Richard Walsh on the opening day of public hearings inthe Omaha-Des Moines Air Service case.

Kenneth G. Delaney, transportation manager for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, said in written testimony that the number of passengers flying between Omaha and Los Angeles and Des Moines and Los Angeles would increase 25% with the first competitive service.

United Top Carrier

He said that in 1967, Omaha and Los Angeles exchanged 65,490 passengers and said with United Airlines remaining as the dominate carrier the forecast for 1969 is 92,583. But if competitive service could be instituted by Jan. 1, the 1969 estimate would be 115,728, he said.

He predicted 82,208 Los Angeles-Des Moines passengers next year with competitive service. The Des Moines-Los Angeles traffic last year amounted to 29,230 passengers.

Roland C. Marquart, transportation commissioner of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, stressed his city's potential importance in channelling traffic between Omaha and the Southeast.

Spokesmen for the Nebraska cities of Grand Island, Hastings, Kearney and McCook expressed support of improved service between Omaha and cities to the east with Frontier Airlines the carrier authorized to compete with United.

Schmit Proposes Public Defender In State Matters

David City (AP) — Loran Schmit, candidate for the legislature from the 23rd District, said Tuesday if elected he will introduce a bill creating a public defender in state government.

The David City farmer and feeder said as the power and scope of government has grown, the need has grown for an official whose job would be to represent private citizens in their specific confrontations with state government.

"Too often the private citizen feels he has little chance in successfully protesting actions of the state which affect him or his property," Schmit said. "It's time we provided a person who the private citizen could go to in order to discuss his grievance and to find out how he could protest or make a case for himself."

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Considerable controversy is being developed and its acceleration is most likely in regard to the recently completed Great Plains School District Organization Project. The project was commenced about two years ago as a federal program to further the cause of education in Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota.

The project is now disbanded but its report lives on — a report on what each of the four states have by way of an educational system from kindergarten through 12th grade and what might be done to improve those systems.

It is in the category of improvement that the fireworks are found. As nearly as we can understand it, the report calls for redistricting and restructuring of the educational system in the Cornhusker state.

As anyone knows, when you speak of redistricting, you are asking for trouble. To redistrict means to consolidate, to put two or more independent school districts within the same district.

When you take such action, it tends to dilute the principle of local control. Rather than a taxpayer with influence within his single small district, one becomes a taxpayer with a little less influence within a larger district.

And a lot of other things happen. Consolidation can change the tax rate because it can and often does mean an improvement in the quality of education as well as greater efficiency. Too, it changes distances, sometimes requires miles more travel on the part of students to get to their new district.

All of this would happen if and when the Great Plains project ever becomes a reality. Before this can happen, however, it must obtain the backing of someone such as the State Department of Education or the governor and then must be implemented by the Legislature.

It is likely to get the backing it needs from the Department of Education. Apparently, the project report calls for a three-level administration of elementary and secondary education in the state, with the possible exception of Omaha and Lincoln.

At the top would be the state, with full authority over any and all matters. At the second level would be a number of districts, reportedly as many as 19 or as few as 12, with jurisdiction over a number of still smaller units.

The smaller units would be the individual school districts which would, by delegation of authority from the state, have administrative responsibility at the local level. But even these districts could be quite large geographically.

The intermediate areas would encompass a minimum of 10,000 students, which could be a substantial number of counties in some of the sparsely settled western districts of the state. One source reports local districts would have to have 1,500 students but the report itself states that size in all cases should be a variable, not an absolute figure.

There apparently is some consideration being given to taxing authority resting with the intermediate area rather than the local district or the state. Rumors of forced boarding of students are heard but accounts of the project report make no mention of this.

One thing is certain — the Great Plains project has stirred up a hornet's nest in many parts of Nebraska. Consistently absent in most discussion is what the project might or might not mean for the children who need an education.

Local control, not quality of education, is the dominant point of controversy. Also obvious is the fact that the State Department of Education has a huge job to do in informing people about the Great Plains project and exactly what it would do and mean to them.

NBC Charged With Distortion Of News

WASHINGTON — The National Broadcasting Company is being indicted this week for bugging the room for the Democratic Platform Committee in Chicago. The microphone was hidden under a pillow on a sofa in the platform committee room and the NBC producer who allegedly placed it there, Enid Roth, has been selected as the scapegoat.

This action marks the first time in history that the government has cracked down on the high-handed operations of the networks, which in the past have helped instigate riots, played a part in encouraging trouble during the Little Rock school crisis, and slanted the news brazenly at the Chicago convention.

The latter is under congressional investigation right now by the House Interstate Commerce Committee. Specifically Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W.Va., has ordered a probe of the network's news coverage in Chicago, as compared with their coverage of the Republican National convention in Miami Beach.

Preliminary investigation confirms reports that some of the networks deliberately went out to slant the news. House investigators have reported, among other things, that while Vice President Humphrey was delivering his acceptance speech, NBC had six cameras focused on him, but the director was partial to one particular camera showing an unfavorable pose of the vice president.

The other cameras showed favorable poses. The producer's partiality for the unfavorable pose became so marked that an NBC assistant director called this to the director's attention. He waved the protest aside.

Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., has also supplied House investigators with information regarding an incident which he witnessed on the Chicago streets. He saw a TV producer lining up several girls before his camera. They were unhurt, unmenaced, unthreatened. However, the minute he gave the cue, they began screaming "Don't hit me! Don't hit me!"

There is also evidence that the networks were sore at Mayor Richard Daley and were determined to put him in the worst possible light. They didn't want to come to Chicago in the first place, since to have remained in Miami Beach would have saved the networks between two and three million dollars for duplicate electric installations. In addition they hassled with the mayor over the location of mobile units, etc.

The mayor is not photogenic and the networks went out of their way to make him less so.

Bargain Basement Special

When it comes to a good deal, the city could come up with the all-time prize. Such would be the case if it acquires for park purposes the former Agronomy Farm area it wants in Northeast Lincoln from the University of Nebraska.

The land will not come particularly cheap from the university. An area equal to the size of Pioneers Park would cost at least $500,000 and probably more. But the city is hoping to obtain 50 per cent federal and 25 per cent state matching funds for the purchase. With that, the city would put out $125,000 for an area with practically unlimited potential for its people.

It may not all work out that way because all the federal and state funds may not be forthcoming to the extent contemplated but the land would be a bargain regardless of how the cost were split up.

It is presently open land, devoid of buildings that so often run up the cost of real estate. It is in the hands of a public agency or institution rather than a speculator or developer.

It is very likely that the city may never again have such an opportunity as it now has in the case of this proposed northeast park addition. The proposed park land is even ideally located from a population distribution point of view. With proper development, the park would serve the recreational interests of the entire area as well as the specific economic and growth interests of the Havelock area.

The physical process of finally acquiring the land will take time and its development would involve a number of years but a beginning is being made. The city should make very sure that this fine asset does not, somehow, slip away from it.

ABC's Triumph

Now that the trouble-scarred Olympics are over, it is time to laud the "third network" for one of the most magnificent jobs in TV history. The American Broadcasting Co. devoted countless hours to coverage of the 19th Olympiad, and through skillful editing, videotape replays, slow-motion and color shots brought into the homes of millions of Americans all the excitement, tension and heartbreak of the great international sports event.

And for once the TV cameras and commentators did not hesitate to include the controversy. There was a time when TV cameras would pan to the cheerleaders if a fight broke out on the football field. And it is still true that no matter how dull a contest may be or how far ahead one team is, the announcers still make believe that an exciting match is going on. Not so at the Olympics.

Thanks mostly to hard-hitting sportscaster Howard Cosell, ABC brought us the whole story — controversy, black power demonstrations, hints of undercover payoffs, poor crowd behavior and all the other elements of the trouble-plagued Olympics.

It is not often that such comprehensive news coverage comes to us over the TV screen. Space shots and national political conventions are the only two occasions that come to mind immediately.

Speaking of the national political conventions: We wonder why ABC decided to go all-out to cover the Olympics while giving only token coverage to the conventions. For all the excitement of the Olympics, the fact remains that the conventions are just plain more important. And Chicago and Miami weren't exactly dull, either.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Questions Concerning South Unanswered; HHH Forces Are Hoping For Split There

WASHINGTON — Like a bellicose sphinx, George C. Wallace sits on the answer to the South. Both in the Nixon and Humphrey camps once the four states of the Deep South — Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Georgia — are conceded to the third-party candidate, the rest is sheer guesswork.

What is more, the political future of a Dixie comfortably taken for granted in the past promises to be clouded long after the votes are counted on Nov. 5. Even in a brief sortie south of the Mason and Dixon line, it is astonishing to find how deep heels are dug in to resist change.

From otherwise responsible men — certainly not in the red-neck category — you hear the view that repression, any form of repression, had better be applied quickly before Negro riots and violence get out of hand. Get it over with right now, is the attitude.

Whether Wallace or Richard Nixon can best apply this repression is the half-formulated question in many Southern minds. The end result will be a three-way split. And that split is the hope cherished in the Hubert Humphrey camp for a modest harvest of electoral votes in the Southern and border states.

Humphrey's campaign manager, Lawrence O'Brien, believes the split in Virginia and South Carolina may put those states in the vice president's column. In South Carolina a large Negro registration is an element that should count for Humphrey. The swing of conservative voters from Nixon to Wallace can be a determining factor, as the Humphrey managers see it, in North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Florida is an arena where the struggle has intensified as the election nears. With a long-brewing revolt against the Democratic party of the regulars and Lyndon Johnson, it would seem to be a shoo-in for Nixon. But three groups cultivated by the Humphrey forces cast a shadow of doubt on the outcome. The minorities — a concentration of Jewish voters in Miami and the Negro — plus the elderly in an infinite variety of leisure worlds concerned over Social Security are the imponderables.

Moreover, the Democrats believe they have a secret weapon in their arsenal. Claude Kirk, Florida's first Republican governor in 94 years, has proved after a flashy start to be, in the admission of many in his own party, a small disaster. His bumbling machinations as he angled for second place on the national ticket made him ridiculous, and this along with various misadventures in his private and public life disillusioned voters who had abandoned traditional ties to elect him in 1966.

Add to this the presence on the Democratic ticket of a strong candidate for the United States Senate. LeRoy Collins, a former Florida governor, entered the race as an underdog after a bruising primary fight which he won by a whisker. But he has climbed steadily to a point at which he is rated at least even.

His opponent is Edward Gurney, a hard-line conservative with a Harvard accent from his native New England. Gurney, a lawyer and state legislator who often sounds like an echo of Wallace, has the backing of Florida's big money, which is considerable. All this and Ronald Reagan, as the California governor comes to Gurney's aid with a big rally and free fish fry in Jacksonville. Gurney has been pinning the sinister, label, liberal on Collins.

Coattails of any strength are rare in this strange campaign. President Johnson and his administration are intensely unpopular in Florida and most of the South. Seldom talking about the national ticket, Collins is making a hard-hitting campaign charging Gurney with being in collusion with the go-go governor through the Gurney law firm and the business it does with Florida state authorities.

The fate of the South after this election is of far greater moment than the outcome of a contest so distorted by the revolution in race relations. The American Independent party is a one-man band. It is difficult to see how Wallace could put together a party with statewide candidates for the Senate and House.

Southern Democrats holding the powerful committee chairmanships in Congress are not going to surrender their privilege of dictating to government departments. In this way the South has grown fat with federal largesse.

Humphrey has talked a lot about the New South. He seriously considered the former governor of North Carolina, Terry Sanford, symbol of the New South, as his running mate. There may be a New South. It may lie beyond the probing of poll takers, the silent mass Nixon talks about. But on the eve of the election with feeling so intense, it is hard to find.

An Alternative

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to take strong objection to the editorial, "Intense Young Man" (Star, Oct. 24) on the candidacy of Bruce Hamilton. It is not necessary to be a hippie to feel that neither of the two major parties represents your views. My vote is an affirmation of what I believe in. I refuse to truly waste it by a negative endorsement of a candidate I find least objectionable and who does not represent me. I could just drop out and not vote, at all. When the situation gets bad enough, I could then take to the streets in violent protest.

However, this is not necessary in Nebraska this year. An intelligent, imaginative and well educated young man has offered me a valid alternative within the system by taking a strong hand on the issues. I urge all people who supported the integrity and the new and promising approaches of Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy to demonstrate that this spirit has not died, by voting for Bruce Hamilton who follows in their footsteps.

Hamilton's Views

Lincoln, Neb.

The Star has presented another foolish, misguided editorial. Not that that's news — but the editorial of October 24 against Harry Bruce Hamilton's candidacy for Congress in Nebraska's First District is worth a reply.

The Star began by saying that Hamilton is "obviously serious, intelligent and personable." But it went on: "It is unfortunate that Hamilton is in the race as this will only thwart the normal workings of our political system." But is this bad? The system, by its "normal workings," brought us a Vietnam war with 27,000 American dead, a loss of billions of dollars, a country of 15 million laid waste, and an America divided against itself.

The Star dislikes Hamilton's Vietnam stand most of all. It tells us that on that issue, "he is simply ignorant of the facts and too idealistically enamoured to be practical." The Star says nothing to back up that strong charge.

Anyone who can and will listen to what Mr. Hamilton has to say about the Vietnam war will be enlightened.

The Follow-Through

Lincoln, Neb.

It is always gratifying to see informed and unbiased people of the opposite party supporting competent servants for re-election, such as Bill Grossman for county commissioner and former Congressman Clair Callan for Congress.

Mr. Grossman's administrative ability, foresight and prudence have been of great value, such as investing idle funds and the proper location of the city-county building which has saved us millions of tax dollars.

Clair Callan has voted and fought for progressive and vital programs, but more important — and this is an issue — he also voted to fund them, proving he was completely in favor of his ideas and not a hoodwinking politician.

We have proven evidence that many members of the 90th Congress voted for programs we wanted and needed badly, and then voted against funding them, which killed them. This is political chicanery.

Two Points

Lincoln, Neb.

Robert Denney has not given a satisfactory answer in his attempted reply to congressional candidate Bruce Hamilton. Mr. Denney has implied that stopping the bombing of North Vietnam would endanger the lives of American servicemen, but there seems to be a major error in Mr. Denney's reasoning.

(1) General Gavin, former Secretary of Defense McNamara, and many other informed men have testified that bombing is ineffective in preventing the movement of supplies along land trails; thus, the current bombing cannot be declared as "protection."

(2) More important, American bombing is a major obstacle to negotiations which could end the military conflict and hence could save American lives. Thus the continued bombing of North Vietnam actually endangers the lives of American servicemen in Vietnam.

History's Lesson

Arapahoe, Neb.

We have been studying about the ancient Greeks. This great civilization crumbled because the people kept fighting among themselves. We learned that free people must work together to survive.

The Roman civilization declined because their life became very easy. It seems as though the Romans grew fat and lazy. No one wanted to defend his country. They had lots of rights but they wouldn't accept their responsibilities. This is a lesson from history that we should use today.

The Communists would like Americans to forget their responsibility to vote. We are not old enough to vote but we would like to encourage all who are eligible to do so. In this way we can help protect our freedom.

Votes Against

Guide Rock, Neb.

I see Robert Denney points out the fact that he was congressman from the First District when funds were authorized for the transmission line from South Dakota to Nebraska and how proud he is that it came during his term in the 90th Congress.

We don't dispute this fact but his voting record for public power is still three unfavorable votes during his two-year term in Congress.

He also wants to show how Senators Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska worked for the Ft. Thompson transmission line. Let's look at their voting records, as senators, on public power, as compiled by the NRECA: Curtis, 9 favorable, 18 unfavorable; Hruska, 7 favorable, 20 unfavorable. It should also be pointed out that Curtis on September 26, 1963, voted for HR 6754 which would have raised REA interest rates for our REA public power 50 per cent. Let's check the facts, as Denney says this can be found in Vol. 109, Pt. 13, P. 18254.

We can't understand how our men in Washington vote against something and then if the law passes, they immediately jump on the bandwagon and praise and take credit for these projects. It's their votes that count and very little else.

If we send these men back to Washington, Nebraska voters should not complain if Nebraska does not move forward.

Defends USDA

Liberty, Neb.

Mr. Denney has been making a lot of noise about how employes have increased in the Department of Agriculture, while farmers have decreased in numbers. Well, it's about time someone puts the facts straight.

I happen to know that a number of agencies in the department have actually reduced the number of people employed.

Here is what has happened. New agencies and new programs have been added and most of them are not agricultural programs. For example, the small watershed program was added in 1954 and it is a wonderful program. But it is a resource development program, not agricultural, Yet it is administered by the Soil Conservation Service, USDA. The Department of Interior would have been more appropriate and no one complains about their appropriations.

Let's look at other agencies in the USDA. There's the meat inspection agency. Maybe we could get along without it. We farmers know whether our livestock are healthy or not. Of course, someone might sell a diseased animal once in a while and the consumer might not like that very well.

Very few people know that the school lunch program is administered by the USDA. It certainly is not an agricultural program. Probably 90 per cent of the children who participate are city children. It gives them one good hot meal a day at a very nominal cost.

USDA has always been the dumping ground for all the things no one else wants. So it gets under my skin when our congressmen point at USDA with an accusing finger and say, "Shame on you!"

Which Is Correct?

Forestville, Md.

In the June, 1964, issue of the magazine, "Nebraska Land," there is a photo of the statue of Lincoln that stands on the west side of the State Capitol and behind him is the Gettysburg Address.

I find it very difficult to question anything that permanently engraved in stone. But we in the East have always understood that Lincoln said ". . . testing whether that nation or any nation . . ." while the Nebraska version has it ". . . testing whether that nation or any other nation . . ."

Does the state have an official explanation for this?

Students Told American Negroes May Face Annihilation

By JOAN McCULLOUGH
Star Staff writer

"If you think you're not a racist, then you're one of the worst problems of all," Wilbur L. Phillips, an attorney, told a group of students and adults Tuesday at the "Time Out" program at the University of Nebraska.

Phillips, director of the Omaha Near Northside Neighborhood Service, said, Negroes will have to leave the U.S. to keep from being annihilated unless the white majority "does something."

"If 400 million were imported involuntarily, I suggest that 22 million could export themselves voluntarily," Phillips said.

Wearing an African jacket and sunglasses, he unhooked the microphone and said, "Being a soul brother, I believe in intimacy."

The survival of colonial United States as a nation rested on the "strength of black blood and black sweat," in the economically productive cotton plantations and on the shipping docks, Phillips said.

'Black Power'

"Black power" came about when the Negro realized that the white population used him for political or economic support.

Phillips said he sees integration as being repugnant and not likely to become a practical fact.

"Black people found out you are not even sure you want to accept each other unless it is physically or economically expedient to you," Phillips said.

Although attendance at Phillips' speech was relatively small, a capacity crowd attended a speech by Tom Windham, a professor at Nebraska Wesleyan University, on institutional racism.

Others watched a film, "A Time for Burning," about the reaction of an Omaha church congregation to racial problems.

The Sheldon Art Gallery theater was filled to capacity of 300 for that and other films, including an anti-Vietnam war film.

Poetry reading and a "concert" by the Liberation Blues attracted hundreds of students in the lobby of the student union.

After the concert, many students stayed to hear Jack Todd, editor of the Daily Nebraskan, speak on editorial freedom.

Todd said the job of being editor was "trickier" than he thought it might be as he discussed criticisms of articles on the editorial page.

The audience broke into applause when Todd said the ROTC program should be abolished on the campus because it is in contradiction with a university atmosphere.

"Spit and polish and bayonet-in-the-guts kind of philosophy doesn't have a place on a university campus," Todd said.

"The systems has so many holes and faults, it is important to point out a few," Todd said, defending the approach of some editorials.

Managing editor Ed Icenogle said the Daily Nebraskan can claim more editorial freedom than any college publication in the Midwest. The only power over the paper is the Publications Board, composed of an equal number of student and faculty members.

Todd said that he had found that Neale Copple, as adviser to the paper, might not like what the paper says, but will defend the editor's right to say it. Copple is director of NU's School of Journalism.

"Feedback" has indicated that the readership of the student paper has been good this year, Todd said.

Vision 17 Backs Bonds For Roads

By CRAIG CALLAWAY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Plattsmouth — Directors of Vision 17 Tuesday night resolved support of permissive county consolidation, the issuance of state highway revenue bonds and retention of the state income tax.

The support came on separate votes following little or no discussion at a directors meeting here which was attended by some 50 to 60 guests as well as 19 directors.

The directors also picked their slate of officers for the coming year, starting Dec. 1: Hugh Wilkins of Geneva, president; John Strand of York, vice president for industrial development; Carroll Thompson of Lincoln, vice president for community development; Lester Trussell of Beatrice, secretary; and Charles Matzke of Pawnee City, treasurer.

After an hour and a half of discussion, the directors also voted unanimously that Vision 17 should join the existing health councils in Lincoln and Beatrice in applying for a federal grant for a two-year "feasibility study" on the areas' requirements for health facilities and services.

The new officers will appoint a committee to meet soon with the Lincoln and Beatrice groups. If successfully backed by the federal government, the study would amount to a two-year "plan for planning" to determine the areas health need.

The county consolidation and revenue bonds issues had been discussed at the last two Vision 17 meetings, but no action was taken. Tuesday night the revenue bond proposal, which will be voted on as Amendment 14 on Nov. 5, was approved by a 15 to four hand vote of the Vision 17 directors.

Outgoing president Bill Cook of Beatrice remarked that many other states are "way ahead of us" because they use the revenue bonding method and he said, "many of our highways are now in very bad condition."

Director Everett McCracken of David City provided the only other discussion on the matter saying that "a crash program invariably creates considerable waste . . . if passed other groups will be stepping forward for a slice of the pie."

The income tax and county consolidation issues were passed without discussion.

In other business the directors approved extending their contract with Northern Systems program for another year.

Even though Vision 17 has not yet raised enough money to pay its 1968 contract with Northern Systems the company offered to extend the contract at a price of $40,000, slightly less than the 1963 amount.

The meeting was the first Allan Hansen attended in his new capacity as Vision 17 executive director. Hansen replaced George Felsch, who has left Northern Systems for other employment.

Japan Postpones Signing Of Treaty

Tokyo (UPI) — Japan has decided to put off signing until next year the treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons, foreign office sources said Tuesday.

The sources said the decision was made in the light of the Soviet intervention in Czechoslovakia and other factors including the U.S. presidential election.

Hammer To Head City Water Board

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Water Advisory Board, inactive since November of 1966, reorganized Tuesday and named as chairman Mark Hammer of the University of Nebraska.

The board's duties involve making recommendations to the mayor and City Council on matters relating to the city water and sanitary sewer systems.

It has become active again in line with a recent council policy calling for all city advisory groups to meet on a regular basis. The council in September also added two members to the board, bringing the membership from five to seven.

Board members elected to meet regularly on the third Wednesday of each month at 3 p.m.

Hammer, acting chairman of NU's department of civil engineering, said a number of "key problems" will be facing the board and it could be at least a year before board recommendations would be forthcoming.

One problem, "of significance to the entire metropolitan area," according to Hammer, is the city's stance on the proposed Platte River dam in the Ashland area.

Noting that Lincoln "will have to watch its water supply," Hammer said the water advisory board "must make a policy statement to the mayor and council in support of the dam, in qualified support, or to reject the concept."

The board's recommendation and the city's position should await the results of feasibility studies now being undertaken by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and other institutions, he advised.

Observing that there are deeply-held feelings both pro and con on the Platte River dam question, Hammer said "this problem is on a collision course.

"This is extremely important and a difficult decision to make. Maybe this board will not be able to come to a consensus."

Other questions the board should address itself to, Hammer proposed, is whether a city sewer code should be adopted and whether there is a need for an industrial waste study.

These questions relate directly to the need for a sewage odor abatement program, he said.

Hammer is a holdover board member. A new appointee as of Sept. 1, James R. Craig, maintenance supervisor at American Stores, was named vice chairman of the advisory board. Public Utilities Director L. V. Blocker will act as ex-officio member and secretary.

Other members: C. M. Hutchings, manager of engineering at Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.; Paul Amen, president, National Bank of Commerce; Thomas M. Davies, attorney; James S. Blackman, associate dean, NU college of engineering and architecture and Marc Weldon, retired professor, NU college of agriculture.

Callan's Dinner To Feature Talk By Rep. Poage

York (AP) — About 150 persons are expected to attend a Democratic Party $12.50-a-plate fund raising dinner for Clair Callan at the York Legion Club Wednesday night.

Speaking in Callan's behalf will be Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the House Agricultural Committee.

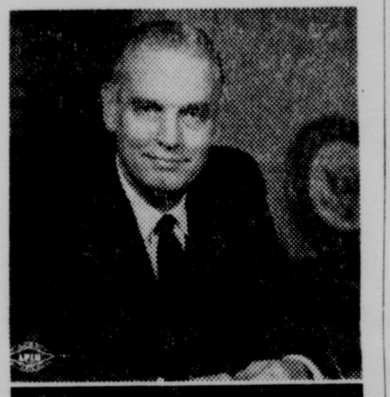
Callan and Poage will hold a news conference at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Lincoln. J. J. Exon, Democratic national committeeman, will be master of ceremonies at the dinner.

Callan is seeking to regain the 1st Congressional District seat he lost to Republican Robert Denney in 1966.

Grain Stocks Up 12% Above 1967

Feed grain stocks in Nebraska totaled 8.7 million tons on Oct. 1 — about 12% above last year — crop experts said.

The State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said corn stocks were up 10% from last year, barley stocks were up 48% and sorghum stocks had risen 16%.



BOB DENNEY: ORDER THROUGH LAW & JUSTICE

Congressman Bob Denney knows crime fighting first hand. He was an FBI agent and both a city and county attorney. Congressman Bob Denney believes in protecting society from criminals, not criminals from society.

"There are social problems that government can and should help to solve, but maintaining order is government's first responsibility."

Bob Denney makes sense, not wild promises!

"The idea of a joint Congressional crime committee, as put forth by Rep. Robert Denney of Fairbury, could inject more good sense and wise judgement into a subject that is overly susceptible to emotion."

From an editorial in The Lincoln Journal.

United Appeal Drive Reaches 68% Of Goal

Lincoln's United Appeal has reached 68% of its $972,203 goal. At Tuesday's report meeting the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company, its employes, and members of Local 7470 of the Communications Workers of America brought in their contribution of $48,119. This is the largest single Unit Firm contribution in the 1969 United Appeal. The United Appeal has now reached a total of $656,970.

Unit Firms Division reports a total of $353,918 or 65% of their goal. Individual Unit Firms who have reached or surpassed their Corporate and Employee goals at this time are: Lincoln Tel. & Tel., $48,191; Lincoln Equipment Co., $2,235, Wells and Frost, $2,075; Lawlors $1,295; Norden Labs, $3,298; Lincoln Drug, $2,397.

Sepcial Gifts Division reports 81% or $148,787 of its $184,600 goal has been attained. In accepting the award for the Lincoln Bar Association Warren Urbom stated, "Professional people in the community are naturals for supporting service oriented endeavors such as the United Appeal since they (professional people) are in the business of providing service themselves."

Business and Government Division now reports 64% or $144,259 of their goal. Lincoln Public Schools helped considerably to increase this figure when they reported $30,671 at the report meeting. This is over 100% of their goal.

Women's Division is now at 67% of their $15,000 goal. At Tuesday's report the total in this division was $10,004. Mrs. Max Schuster, Chairman of the Division expressed confidence in the Women's Division's ability to reach their goal.

The next report meeting will be held Nov. 1.

Two Chief Deputies Named To Fill Vacant County Posts

Two chief deputies were named Tuesday by Lancaster County Commissioners to fill vacancies created earlier this month by the deaths of Lancaster County Engineer Hugh Dillon and Clerk of the District Court Wilford Sanders.

Nelson

Hoppe

Otis Nelson, 57, of 431 Mulder Dr. and Walter Hoppe, 68, of 2120 Bradfield Dr., both republicans, were appointed to fill the unexpired terms of court clerk and county engineer, respectively.

The appointments, made by the Democrat-controlled county board, are effective Nov. 1.

Nelson indicated that he plans to seek election to the post in 1970, while Hoppe said it was "too far ahead" to state his intentions at the present time.

Nelson, who has been employed in the district court clerk's office a total of about 19 years, had served as chief deputy since 1954 when Mr. Sanders was first elected.

He started in the office in 1946 and worked more than two years, after which he was employed by the Nebraska Teacher Retirement Department for about three years before returning to the clerk's office in 1952.

A World War II veteran, Nelson attended the Lincoln School of Commerce.

Hoppe, who has been employed in the county engineer's office for 46 years, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a registered surveyor and registered engineer.

Prior to his appointment as chief deputy under Mr. Dillon in 1961, Hoppe had served as chief field engineer for the county.

County Equalization Board Defers Action On Protest

Lancaster County Commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization Tuesday, deferred action following a hearing at which the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad protested the county's placing some Havelock shop and roundhouse personal property on the tax-rolls.

Wallace A. Richardson, attorney for the railroad, told the board that the railroad's contention is that the property is centrally taxed by the State of Nebraska and this precludes the county from taxing it.

He said that the railroad is not challenging the fact that the property should be taxed but contends that the law forbids the county's taxing it when it is being centrally assesssed.

A tax officer for the railroad explained that the total value of all Burlington property is apportioned percentage-wise to the various states it is located in for assessment purposes.

He said for this reason Nebraska and Lancaster County may be benefitting from the value of a property the railroad may own in Cicero, Ill., and therefore local taxation of any individual property considered in this total value would constitute double taxation.

County OKs IDA Bonds

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of $5 million worth of Industrial Development Act bonds to Archer-Daniels-Midland Co. for construction of a soybean refinery.

The bond issue is the second $5 million issue approved for the firm. The first was issued to finance the construction of a soybean meal processing facility.

The board also approved a resolution providing for a loan of $150,000 from the general fund to the Lancaster County Welfare Department so it may continue to operate until 1968 real estate tax payments begin to come in.

The resolution transfers $100,000 to the special medical fund and $50,000 to the relief fund.

The Welfare Department was some $46,000 "in the red" last week because funds provided by 1967 taxes were exhausted.

The temporary transfer was made with the understanding that the money would be paid back into the general fund when sufficient tax monies are available.

Firemen Search School For Bomb After Phone Call

Firemen searched a Lincoln school building Tuesday afternoon after being warned by an anonymous telephone caller that there was a "bomb" hidden in the building.

Nothing was found, firemen said.

Fire department officials said the incident occurred at Robin Mickle Junior High School, 67th and Walker Ave.

Police and firemen said the matter would be investigated.

Armored Truck Hijacked; Loss Said $204,000

London (AP) — Four armed men hijacked an armored truck and its crew outside a bank Tuesday and escaped with six money bags containing $204,000.

They struck as three employes of a security company left the bank in suburban Romford, hustled the three into their own truck and drove to a side street.

The security men said they were forced at gunpoint to hand over the keys of the truck's inner cage.

Gold & Company Name To Change

It was announced Tuesday that the name of the Gold & Company store would be changed to Brandeis, Golds Division.

In making the announcement, S. J. Marchese, Golds general manager, said that the change in name was dictated by the results of extensive surveying in the Lincoln trade area and by practical considerations of cost factors in advertising and operational supplies.

Marchese emphasized that the change, which will be effective immediately, is a name change only, and that personnel and store policies will not be affected.

Sen. Gale McGee Postpones Visit

Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., notified Nebraska Wesleyan University officials late Tuesday that he will be unable to appear for engagements which had been scheduled for Wednesday on the campus.

Sen. McGee, a faculty member at NWU from 1940-43, was to have delivered a convocation address and meet informally with students and faculty members.

No future date for his appearance has been set.

Elimination Of State Income Tax 'Cannot Help But Shift Burden'

The Nebraska Tax Facts Committee Tuesday said elimination of the income tax "cannot help but shift the tax burden from the wealthier persons and corporations to the lower income persons" in Nebraska.

"If this campaign now is pitting the middle and low-income persons against the rich, this division was made by those seeking to eliminate the income tax, not by us," the committee declared.

Its statement was issued in response to criticism that the committee is attempting to pit class against class in its campaign to preserve the tax.

"It should not be surprising that Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha, one of the wealthiest men ever to serve in the Nebraska Legislature, should be a leading force in eliminating the income tax," the committee stated.

Sen. Batchelder says the income tax, which hits harder at the wealthy, should not be used in Nebraska."

Tax Backers Seeking Volunteers To Distribute Handbills At Polls

The Nebraska Tax Facts Committee, organized to head off attempts to outlaw the state income tax, reported Tuesday it is seeking volunteers to distribute handbills at the polls next week.

Of concern is the ballot language on the proposed constitutional amendment to ban the tax.

A vote "for" the constitutional amendment is a vote to ban the tax, the committee noted. And a vote "against" is a vote to retain the revenue-purchasing method.

The handbills are designed to make clear the alternatives, the committee said.

"We can only hope that individuals and members of organizations will agree to help in this endeavor and will take necessary steps to coordinate their actions with others of their own counties and communities to make similar plans to man the polling places," the committee said.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

We carved a jack o'lantern out of a big golden-red pumpkin the other night. Am happy to report that I have not lost my skill.

I got the moppets around the kitchen table while I chopped into it. I give little lessons in safety.

"Always cut away from you," I said. "So you don't cut yourself — ouch!"

☆ ☆ ☆

No, it is not deep. I beg your pardon! Why shouldn't I have a hot buttered rum while I am handling a sharp knife. Women should not be around the kitchen when I am carving pumpkins.

It makes me nervous.

One of you children run and get me a --. Well, I was about to say Band-Aid. But whenever I do, I get a letter from the Band-Aid company lawyer.

"I am sure you realize that we have a large investment in this trade name and do not wish it to become part of the language as has been the misfortune of other makers of popular products."

I don't want to break the company's rice bowl. So I will stick a piece of paper towel on it.

☆ ☆ ☆

That is what I mean anyway. Be careful when you are handling sharp knives, children. (Where did I put my drink? Oh, there. Thank you.)

First thing you do is cut off the top of the pumpkin.

Jack o'lanterns should be started about 5 o'clock. Just when it is getting smoky dusk outside. By the time you finish, it is dark. You set him up with a candle inside.

Scary! My word, yes.

Cut off the top and pull out the goeey inside. It's a messy job but has to be done.

Do not throw away the seeds. The seeds should be washed and dried overnight, next evening, roast them in a little butter. Salt them and let them cool. Then you eat them.

If you have a child who grinds his teeth at night, feed him pumpkin seeds. It is a sure cure my grandmother said.

☆ ☆ ☆

I learned to carve jack o'lanterns from my grandfather. He told Indian stories while he worked.

"That was the year a bunch of Cheyennes cut loose and killed some settlers not more than 50 miles from us."

My grandfather had gone to Kansas to homestead. The Cheyennes were Dull Knife's people trying to get home.

He also had a lot of Indian stories from his mother whose family lived down in Kentucky in the desperate days.

He finished carving and set up the jack o'lantern and said: "I reckon that's how an Indian looked when he was sneaking up on a cabin in the middle of the night."

I went outside and looked at the lantern in the window. Scary? Oh, my!

☆ ☆ ☆

I cut triangles for eyes and a triangle for the nose. I leave a few jagged teeth in the mouth.

I also cut triangle ears. It lets more light come out, and that is the idea for any good jack o'lantern.

I cut the stub ends of a cucumber and spike them in the eye triangles with toothpicks. It is my own invention. Gives the fellow green eyes.

I cut a wedge out of the top that fits back where I cut it out. It lets the smoke out. A pumpkin smells awfully pumpkiny for a day. We keep it in the window and let the window open a little.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Did Indians have jack o'lanterns?" the mopets asked. "Indians?" I cried. "Let me tell you what my grandfather told me about Indians!"

"If you're going to have another buttered rum," said the kitchen critic, "be careful with that knife."

I pay no attention to such things. What do women know about jack o'lanterns and Indians and the dreadful war whoop in the cold and scary night?

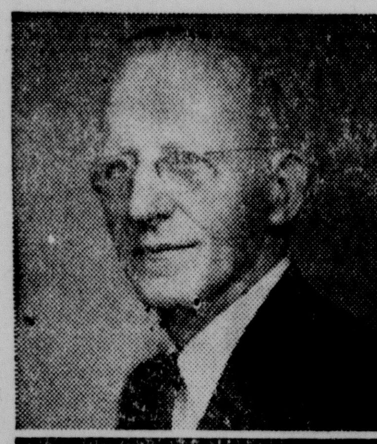
Plan To Make Rail Unit Post Appointive Hit

Lincoln legislative candidate Richard Larson Tuesday said the Little Hoover Commission's recommendation to make the post of state railway commissioner an appointive one is "ill-advised."

Larson, who is seeking election to the Legislature in the 27th District, served as a commissioner for four terms.

"The elective nature of the office is important because the public and the transportation industry is certain that elected commissioners are serving the whole public and the public is made aware of the many responsibilities that the commission has," Larson said.



LARSON HAS THE EXPERIENCE FOR LEGISLATURE

Richard H. Larson believes citizens want experienced legislators.

"My experience as Nebraska's only four-term Railway Commissioner, bank examiner and businessman has given me invaluable training and knowledge of Nebraska's people, economy and problems."

Richard H. Larson's tailor-made experience is available to serve the 27th District as full-time Legislator.

Bridal Showers

The bridal courtesies are continuing for Miss Marijean Hall, University of Nebraska coed who will become the bride of Wallace D. Sommers on Saturday, Nov. 23.

Next Tuesday evening, the soon-to-be bride will be presented a shower of pottery and stainless steel gifts at a courtesy for which Mrs. Glenn Wagner and her daughter, Miss Cindy Wagner, will be hostesses at their home. The guests have been invited for an informal dessert supper.

Included among recent courtesies for the bride-elect was the one-gift shower presented her by members of her mother's sewing club on Friday afternoon, Oct. 18.

Mention already has been made of the bridal attendants for the wedding of Miss Hall, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Hall, and Mr. Sommers. Inadvertently omitted from the list of attendants for the ceremony, to be solemnized at Westminster Presbyterian Church, were Miss Susan Miller of Denver and Miss Allison Burnett, Kansas City, Mo., who will attend their cousin as flower girls, and Miss Jacqueline Miller, Denver, also a cousin of the bride-elect, who will be the ringbearer.

Lighting the chancel candles for the 8 o'clock service will be Miss Nancy Thompson and Mrs. John Erhenhard.

ABBY

never look back

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old male and unattached, also a steady worker and mind my own business. My best friend is married, has a wife and baby and they live with HER people.

They have no transportation, so I visit them quite often. While I am there, I am in the company of her parents. Now for my problem: My friend's mother-in-law wrote to me declaring her "love" for me. Abby, I have never even looked sideways at this old lady and I don't know what gave her the idea that I could care for her. I hate to go to their house again, knowing how she feels about me. But if I stay away, my buddy will wonder why.

Should I tell him about this? Or is there a better way to handle it?

INNOCENT VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: Don't mention this to your buddy or his wife, and don't go to his house any more than is necessary. But when you do be sure you continue to mind your own business and make sure you don't look at the old lady sideways or any other way. If she pitches you again, tell her (quietly) to confine her "love" to her own husband.

DEAR ABBY: I baby-sit for a very nice lady I'll call Mrs. Jones. She has a 4-year-old child. Mrs. Jones has a sister who lives on the other side of town who has a pair of wild twin boys about the same age as Mrs. Jones' little girl. When I come to sit for Mrs. Jones, I will very often find the twin cousins there because Mrs. Jones and her sister are going off together. Abby, I don't mind this at all, but when I have to bathe three children, give them their dinners and put them to bed, not to mention trying to keey them from getting into things they shouldn't, and keeping them from fighting, don't you think I should get paid extra?

Well, I don't. The two mothers split the cost between them and I get paid only for taking care of one. Is this fair? How should I explain this to Mrs. Jones the next time this happens?

GYPPED

DEAR GYPPED: Don't wait for it to "happen" again. Tell Mrs. Jones before you sit that you charge by the child, and not by the hour.

DEAR ABBY: I am sick to death of hearing widows complain because people call them MRS. JANE DOE instead of the more proper MRS. JOHN DOE.

I'm a widow, and I couldn't care less about what people call me — as long as they CALL me.

MISS JEANNE BESSEY

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edward Bessey of Omaha make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jeanne, to Roger DeWitt Ryon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Ryon of Lincoln.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Nov. 30, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Benson Presbyterian Church in Omaha.

Miss Bessey is president of Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in Omaha and is serving on the career board at Brandeis.

Mr. Ryon was graduated from the University of Nebraska in August.

Chapel Wedding

Mrs. Albert Lauer of Long Beach, Calif., announces the marriage of her daughter, Catherine, to BT3 Stanley R. Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hutchinson of Lincoln, which took place on Friday, Oct. 18.

The ceremony was solemnized in the chapel at the U.S. Navy Base, Los Alamitos, Calif.

Mr. Hutchinson and his bride flew to Lincoln on their honeymoon, and drove back to Long Beach where the bridegroom is assigned to destroyer duty aboard the USS Turner Joy DD591. He recently returned to the States from his second tour of duty in Vietnam.

Eastborough
Southbrook Summit
Maple Village

suburbia

Between now and the middle of next week, things will be happening so fast, most of us won't be able to catch our breath. Tomorrow will bring a double feature of events — Halloween and the final day of October. While the younger set rings doorbells for treats and UNICEF donations, their parents will probably pause to wonder where October went.

They won't have much time to wonder, however, because November will hurry in on Friday bringing with it a famous, every-four-years event, Election day. Then there is Veteran's Day on Nov. 11 and Thanksgiving on the 28th. But before November arrives, we have some news about last weekend's activities of suburban residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Hebing of Oakland, Iowa, were the weekend house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keast in Maple Village on Oct. 26 and 27. While Mr. and Mrs. Hebing were their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Keast also entertained at dinner on Saturday evening, Oct. 26, at East Hills Supper Club.

Sunday, Oct. 27, was a special day for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry R. McDonald in Eastborough. Not only was it Mrs. McDonald's birthday anniversary, but it also was the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Floyd Adams of Holdrege. To celebrate the day, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Michael, Patrick and Katherine, were dinner and house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adams in Holdrege. Mrs. McDonald and the children made the trip to Holdrege on Tuesday, Oct. 22, and were joined there by Mr. McDonald on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Another Eastborough couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Meyers attended a dinner at the Esquire Club on Saturday evening, Oct. 26, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schramm who will be moving to Portland, Ore. Six couples attended the dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Schramm.

Mrs. Dwayne Schmale whose ceramics shop in Southbrook Summit, we mentioned a few weeks ago, has been doing a thriving business since the ceramics classes she teaches have begun. She and Mrs. Roger McGinnis, a partner in the business venture, exhibited their work for the first time when they attended the Annual Ceramic and Hobby Show in Beatrice on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 26 and 27.

Not only did they exhibit some of their ceramics, but they came home with a trophy for the best ceramic piece in its class and first, second, third and fourth places on the various pieces they displayed.

Mrs. Schmale isn't the only Southbrook Summit resident who started a business venture from a hobby interest. Ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. Wayman O. Bennett began their poodle trimming and grooming business by caring for their own dogs. Since then the shop has grown and kept Mr. and Mrs. Bennett busy, but they have found time to take up a new interest recently. They joined the Lincoln Mustang Club and attend its rallies, dinners, and help to decide which charities will receive the proceeds from the club's rallies.

Also in Southbrook Summit a new resident, Travis Bailey Winn, who was born on Tuesday, Oct. 15, has been causing a lot of excitement in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Winn. Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Bailey, the maternal grandparents who live in Gambing, La., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winn the weekend of Oct. 19th to greet their new grandson.

Mrs. Rober Winn of Kansas City, Ka., the paternal grandmother, arrived in Lincoln on Tuesday, Oct. 22, to welcome her new grandson into the family and to convey her husband's best wishes. She returned to Kansas City yesterday.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♥
Pass	4♥

Opening lead ten of spades.

I was playing with Howard Schenken in a team of four championship many years ago when this deal arose.

My fourth hand heart bid elicited a long huddle from partner, and the outcome of Schenken's cerebrations was that he jumped directly to four hearts. The trend of his thoughts quickly became apparent as the play progressed.

As the opening spade lead was made, Schenken put down the dummy and said: "We might have missed seven." When East won the spade, Schenken quietly murmured, "No seven." And when West won the diamond return with the ace, Schenken added, "And no six."

In the meantime I was having a quiet little conversation with myself which ran: "And no five or four either," and it took all my will power to keep from joining Schenken in his persistent refrain.

West returned a diamond. I ruffed in dummy and led the queen of hearts, planning to finesse. This somewhat unusual lead had the miraculous effect of annihilating both the king and jack of trumps with one blow, thus saving me a vital trump loser.

My worries were not yet over, since there was still a possibility of losing two club tricks. But the clubs were favorably placed, so I wound up making the contract.

The queen of hearts lead was no stroke of genius on my part, and that it succeeded was far more lucky than clever. Only two combinations exist that can conceivably avoid a trump loser; the actual case and the one where East has the singleton king.

These possibilities are equally likely, but in the former case the queen must be led, while in the latter case a low trump must be led to avoid the loser.

The practical advantage of the queen play instead of the three is that East may make the mistake of not covering with the king when he is dealt K-x, in which case larceny is the only keynote to success.

FURS UNCLAIMED FROM STORAGE BEING SOLD

Unheard of Prices on New and Used Furs

Here is the story of these furs: Furriers from time to time get "stuck" with furs unclaimed from storage. Pachman Furs has a large group of furs which will go at fantastic prices in the Lincoln area. Also many one-of-a-kind furs from regular stock will go at very low prices. Imagine buying a nearly new fur stole for only $15.00 and up and fur collars from $5.00 to $10.00 & up. Many of these furs are expensive furs and are being sold at ridiculous prices. These furs really look NEW but must be labeled "second-hand used." If you want to buy a "good" $15.00 and up bargain in a fur you'd better come early. Fur Coats, Jackets, Bubele Capes and Stoles will go at low, low prices. A deposit will hold your layaway. Furs on sale for limited time, open from 9 to 5:30. Mack Pachman Furrier, 1026 "O" Street. Lincoln, Nebr. Layaways invited. Everything labeled to show country of origin.

Holiday Bazaar To Benefit Children

Never too busy to give a helping hand to others are the members of the University of Nebraska Dames, an organization for the wives of university students.

With daily schedules brimming with full or part-time employment, college classes, and the inevitable housekeeping chores, these busy young ladies have managed to find a few precious minutes to create holiday gifts and decorations for the home.

The handcrafted articles will fill Gold's auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 14, when the Dames will sponsor a benefit bazaar to raise funds for their service projects for the youngsters at White Hall, The Cedars and the State Hospital.

Program, Meeting of Organizations

The annual Achievement Program for Lancaster County 4-H Club members and leaders will be held next Wednesday evening at the Activities Bldg., on the University of Nebraska East Campus.

Honors and recognition will be awarded to nearly 80 club members and 100 leaders at the 7:30 o'clock program, and club members who have been active for eight, nine and ten years will be presented pins.

Meeting in Lincoln on Monday were the executive board members of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, who gathered for the regular fall meeting of the state officers at the Hotel Lincoln.

Mrs. Harold H. Thompson of Lincoln, state president, presided at the 1 o'clock meeting.

Joining the state officials on Tuesday were the members of the state board of managers. The morning session was followed by a noon luncheon at the Hotel Lincoln.

Guest Night

The alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta sorority will entertain at a guest night program, Friday evening, at the chapter house, 1619 R.

The 8 o'clock program, "Evening of Theater", will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blake, and will be followed by a tour of the chapter's new addition.

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Merril advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peaches-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion-beautifying cold water, smooth on tropical oil of Olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive, but your drug store should be able to get you a supply.

International electric's
HOT WATER HEAT WITHOUT PLUMBING

Plug-In for cold rooms or Connect Permanently for entire home, apartment or office

Yes, you now can heat your entire home economically because these remarkable heaters give off warmth from the warmed water even after the built-in thermostat has shut the electricity off. They also adjust the amount of heat given off according to how cold the room is. And they're absolutely safe because the electric element is inside the permanently sealed copper tubing containing water and anti-freeze solution. You can put these heaters behind drapes, furniture . . . a child can stuff tissue into them ... all without the slightest danger. Come filled, never need refilling.

Favorable Vote Urged On Fluoridation Issue

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf Tuesday urged a favorable vote on the fluoridation issue Nov. 5 and said the effect of the water treatment "can help the future dental health of Lincoln children."

"I have discussed the issue with Dr. George Underwood (City-County Health Director) and he assures me that water fluoridation is safe and effective and is not dangerous to the health," the mayor said.

Schwartzkopf noted that if the issue is approved, equipment would be installed by "experienced and capable personnel, including Public Utilities Director Lee Blocker, with background in the area of fluoridating city water."

"Reputable medical, dental and scientific organizations in the United States and all over the world recommend water fluoridation as a safe procedure for reducing tooth decay among children by as much as 65%," the mayor said.

Housand Charged With Jail Break; Hearing Date Set

Lancaster County Court Tuesday set Nov. 13 as date for a preliminary hearing for 34-year-old John Housand, charged with breaking out of the Lancaster County jail.

Housand and a fellow inmate, Lloyd Eugene Enfield, were discovered to be missing from the jail early Monday.

Housand was arrested Monday night at a Lincoln apartment house but Enfield remained at large.

Bond for Housand on the escape charge was set at $3,500.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp disputed Housand's story that the escapes took place about 3 p.m. Sunday. The sheriff said he learned from an informant that the escape took place about 3 or 3:30 a.m. Monday. He said he personally checked the jail at 5 p.m. Sunday.

The sheriff said he is certain the escapers had assistance. Bars of a second story cell window were sawed out to permit the escape.

Couple In Court

London (UPI) — British actor David Baxter and his bride Susan appeared in court on charges of possessing marijuana just four days after their marriage. They were remanded until Nov. 27 on $120 bail each.

Road Bond Backer Responds To McBride

A backer of revenue bond financing for highway construction, Wendell Wood of North Platte, took issue Tuesday with the views of former state highway advisory commission chairman J. R. McBride of Minden, as expressed Monday.

McBride, who opposes the deficit financing, told the Highway Commission Monday that by the time 40-year bonds were paid off, the highways constructed by them would be obsolete. McBride advocated higher gas taxes and license fees to permit accelerated pay-as-you go highway improvements.

"McBride's theory that the use of highway bonds would result in obsolete roads and a large debt is as inadequate as our roads — and that's inadequate," said Wood, co-chairman of the Good Roads Committee.

The committee is supporting constitutional Amendment 14, the highway bond financing amendment on which Nebraskans will ballot Tuesday.

Wood said it is obvious that Nebraska needs "safer and more modern highways now." Approval of Amendment 14 will not give the Legislature "blanket approval to spend hundreds of millions of dollars at once," he said. The amendment "merely authorizes proper use of credit," he said. "Our businesses and industries use this form of financing for improvement and modernization, and so do most of our citizens."

Council To Meet

The Nebraska Radiation Advisory Council will meet in the Executive Office Building conference room Monday at 2 p.m.

Hamilton Won't Vote For HHH

First Congressional District New Party candidate Harry Bruce Hamilton said Tuesday Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's endorsement of Hubert H. Humphrey doesn't change his mind about the presidential race.

Hamilton, who supported McCarthy for the Democratic presidential candidacy, said he will not vote for Humphrey despite McCarthy's endorsement.

"McCarthy's endorsement in no way changes the issues or the purposes and goals of our campaign,'' said Hamilton.

Hamilton, a 26-year-old University of Nebraska law student, is running against Republican incumbent Robert V. Denney and former Democratic Congressman Clair Callan for the First District seat.

Hamilton said he was not surprised by McCarthy's endorsement of Humphrey.

"McCarthy's very simply saying Humphrey is a better presidential candidate than his two opponents,'' Hamilton said.

"He evidently felt it was better to vote for the lesser of two evils rather than sit back and do nothing,'' he said.

"However, this will not affect my position,'' he said. "If anything, it will make us work harder to win.''

Denney Wants Federal Insurance For Farm Loans

Rep. Robert Denney, R-Neb., has recommended that the federal government insure operating loans to young farmers.

In an article prepared for the October issue of the Nebraska Municipal Review, Denney noted that direct loans are made through the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) as Congress appropriates the funds and the Budget Bureau authorizes their use. But, he said, the federal government has only limited resources and applications for loans consistently exceed the funds available.

Money from private lending sources could be loaned through the FHA with the government insuring and servicing the loans, he said. He said he has drafted a bill calling for such a change in FHA's operating loan program and will press for its acceptance in the 91st Congress if re-elected.

American Party Expenditures Told

The chairman of the American Party in Nebraska, Dr. Gerald Byrd of Omaha, Tuesday reported to the secretary of state party expenditures amounting to $512.

Some $329 went to newspaper advertising. Byrd said radio and television advertising is being paid for by sources other than the party organization.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

Next Stop, Munich

Mexico City —When Manhattan was a virtually uninhabited island in the middle of the 14th century, Munich was a sleepy river town of 10,000 people. But Mexico City already had become the center of the Aztec culture and civilization with 60,000 homes. Even today this lovely city is almost six times larger than the German metropolis with a rapidly expanding population of some seven million.

If Munich's expert observers at the recently concluded Olympic Games were wearing frowns as they headed back to their Bavarian homeland, such concern was understandable. How can Munich, the Olympic site in 1972, ever match the almost matchless show that the Mexicans staged over the past fortnight with such surprising eclat?

Somehow or other, though, they will. No one dreamed that Tokyo in 1964 could come close to the sheer magnificance of the Rome Olympics in 1960. But the ingenious Japanese came so close that the difference was barely discernible. And if the Mexicans could not exactly produce a setting comparable to the grandeur that was Rome, they furnished the background for a record cascade of Olympic records. Performances alone unquestionably made these games the greatest of them all.

If the Olympics keep getting better, they also keep getting bigger and that's a danger. Mexico's fiesta drew at least 7,500 athletes from the 115 countries posting flag in the Olympic Village. Munich will attract far more because it is more centrally located and because the developing nations are supplying more and more athletes of international stature.

Russians Slipping

Little Kenya, for instance, took three gold medals in track and field, the same total as the huge Soviet Union. As a matter of fact, the Russians slipped completely from the challenging role they once offered the United States, collapsing so badly that even the Kremlin took grumbling notice.

Here is the gold medal total since 1952 when the Soviet first left its sanctuary behind the iron curtain and entered Olympic competition: (The U.S. total is given first) 42 to 20, 32 to 37, 34 to 43, 36 to 30 and now 46 to 30.

Admittedly, it sounds chauvinistic to say that America produces the world's best athletes in sports in which it is genuinely interested but the evidence of the last fortnight is indisputable. Yet it is difficult to believe that such a show of supremacy can continue indefinitely because others are applying American know-how and techniques to their training programs. In spite of all the medals — the United States collected 107 — the gap keeps narrowing as any reputable eyewitness will attest.

Marks Awesome

Despite fears to the contrary, Mexico City's mile-and-a-half altitude failed to mute the record crescendo. Some of those marks were so awesome that one wonders if they can be shattered at sealevel Munich. One thing is certain: "The Bavarian capital will provide facilties at least equal to the superbly designed ones that served Mexico City.

In one respect they would be an improvement. The Mexicans had their facilities scattered all over the landscape. The rowing course for instance, was some 15 to 20 miles from the center of town, the Olympic Village a dozen miles away and the Estadio Olimpico 10 miles. Since normal Mexican traffic resembles the Long Island expressway on a bad day, travel to Venues was a shattering, time consuming problem.

Munich prides itself on the compactness of its setup. Almost everything is in the one area and the subway system will whisk spectators in five minutes to the Oberwiesenfeld from the center of town, only 2½ miles away. There were occasions here when it took two hours to get back to town and athletes had long trips by bus every time they left the village. In Munich they will be able to walk if they so desire.

Munich To Conform

The Munich schedule also will conform to the ones the Romans used and which the Japanese followed. Track and field will provide the grand windup. That's as it should be because there seemed to be an anticlimatic letdown once the main show in the stadium had ended.

And Munich also will return to a sensible time of year. Melbourne held its games in November of 1956. Tokyo in October of 1964 and Mexico City in October of 1968, thereby violently disrupting the educational existence of most American Olympians. Many had to stay out of school or college for one semester. But Munich will open its show on Aug. 26, 1972.

Mexico City achieved phenomenal success with its international spectacle, so much so that Munich will be hard pressed to surpass it. But the efficient Germans probably will because the Olympic Games always seem to bound from one peak to an even higher one.

Geese Head Southward Non-Stop Over State

Conservation officers are sighting good numbers of geese in the northeastern portion of Nebraska, but to the hunters dismay most of the big birds are flying high heading southward non-stop across the state.

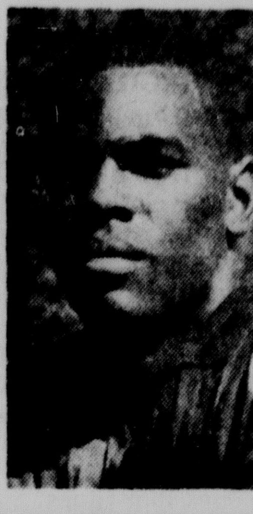
In the northeast, some limits of Canada geese are being taken in the Wynot area of the Missouri River, along with an occasional snow and blue. And, a few geese are being downed in the southeast along the Missouri River. Other news in the southeast centers about big-game hunters holding permits for the Blue and Nemaha units. Both units open for action Saturday morning.

Omahan Argersinger Suspended At WSU

Wichita, Kan. (UPI) — Larry Argersinger, a defensive tackle from Omaha, and offensive tackle Jack Hunt of Ansonia, Connecticut were suspended by Wichita State University Football coach Eddie Kriwiel Tuesday for repeated curfew violations.

Argersinger and Hunt were both suspended last spring for similar violations, Kriwiel said.

AFL Player Honor To Denver's Briscoe



MARLIN BRISCOE

New York (AP) — Marlin Briscoe has more trouble reading defenses than being the first No. 1 Negro quarterback in major league football. He obviously, however, is doing a good job of both.

Briscoe, a rookie from Omaha, read the Miami defense perfectly last Sunday, changed plays, ran a quarterback sneak 10 yards for a touchdown that lifted Denver past Miami 21-14 and Tuesday was named the American Football League's offensive player of the week by The Associated Press.

The 10-yard run climaxed a day on which Briscoe relieved sore-shouldered Steve Tensi with Miami ahead 14-0 and rallied the Broncos to their third victory in four games. He scored the first touchdown, on a 12-yard dash, and set up the second with a 24-yard pass.

"I haven't thought too much about being the first Negro quarterback," Briscoe said but added:

It makes me work that much harder, knowing I have to prove myself because I am the first. It might be a stepping stone for others to get into the pros as a quarterback instead of being switched."

After breaking 22 records at Omaha, Briscoe went to Denver as its 14th draft choice.

"When we signed him," said Coach Lou Saban, "we told him he would be given a chance at quarterback. That's all that was said. I don't care what he is as long as he gets the job done."

The youngster, however, pulled a hamstring muscle on the first day of practice in July and fell behind John McCormick, Jim Leclair and Joe DiVito when it came to finding a replacement for Tensi, who broke his left collarbone in an exhibition game.

Saban, meanwhile, switched Briscoe to the defensive backfield.

"Playing defense was okay," Marlin said from Denver before going into a team meeting. "But I got that itchy feeling to get out of there and start playing quarterback. I felt I could do the job. I just wanted a chance to prove I could."

He got the chance against Boston Sept. 29 and almost turned a certain defeat into Denver's first victory. The following week he made his first start, then reverted to the No. 2 man when Tensi returned.

Then came Sunday and Tensi's sore shoulder, and the 5-foot-11 rookie was back beating the Dolphins.

What has been his toughest problem since switching back to quarterback?

"Reading defenses," he said. "It's getting better every week, but I've been a quarterback here only a month and it's difficult to learn to read defenses in that time."

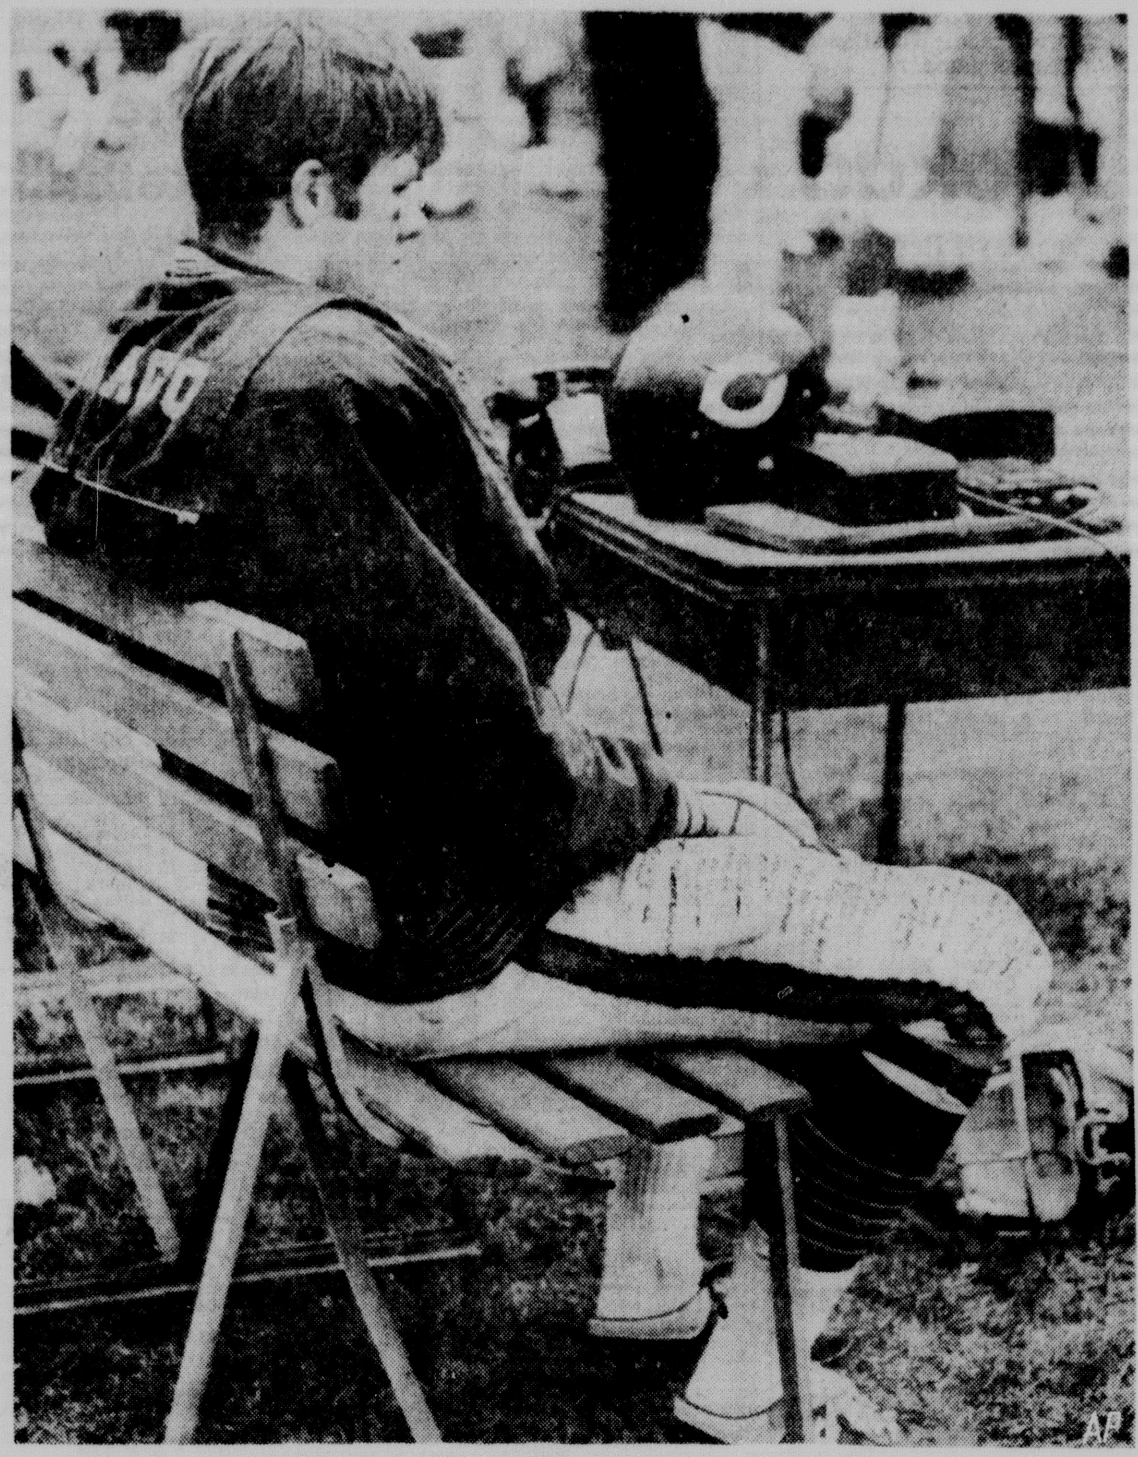
Still there was that play against Miami when only 1:55 remained. The Broncos called time, and Briscoe went to the sideline to discuss the situation with Saban. They decided on a Floyd Little sweep to the right.

However, when the Broncos lined up, the sharp-eyed Briscoe noticed the Dolphins had left a slight gap over center. He quickly called another play at the line, then broke through the middle and into the end zone for the victory.

"There were 44,000 fans out there who thought Briscoe was great," said Miami Coach George Wilson. "Now you can make that 44,001, counting me."

In gaining the weekly award, Briscoe was named over Len Dawson, who engineered Kansas City past San Diego for its sixth straight victory; Billy Joe, who scored three touchdowns in the last 11 minutes as New York defeated Boston; Alvin Reed, who caught two touchdown passes for Houston against Buffalo, and Paul Robinson of Cincinnati who gained 159 yards on 17 carries in a loss to Oakland.

NCAA Cites La Salle, St. Bon, FSU On Rules



'IT SAYS SO RIGHT HERE'

Chicago Bears' quarterback Virgil Carter, 22, evidently must see it in writing. The neophyte signal-caller, pressed into service when more experienced teammates were injured, has play reminders listed on his right pantleg. The photographer managed this shot as Carter rested during Sunday's Minnesota game.

Cage Violations Bring Probation

. . . POSTSEASON PLAY OUT

St. Louis (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association placed the basketball teams of La Salle College, Florida State University and St. Bonaventure on probation Tuesday for NCAA rules violations.

Arthur J. Bergstrom of Kansas City, assistant executive director of the NCAA Council, said the teams may not play in postseason games while on probation.

La Salle of Philadelphia was put on probation for two years, Florida State and St. Bonaventure for one year each.

La Salle was penalized, Bergstrom said, for improperly terminating athletic scholarships, for a threat to terminate scholarships for poor performances and for permitting the freshman coach to make token cash payments to players for outstanding performances.

Bergstrom said in six cases athletes working off campus were paid for hours they did not work.

"The income from this outside source, when coupled with institutional financial assistance, exceeded the students-athletes normal educational expenses," Bergstrom said.

FSU was cited for providing paid sight-seeing trips to Panama City for two prospective basketball players, Bergstrom said. He added arrangements for the trips were made by basketball coaches.

Also, Bergstrom said, FSU coaches organized tryout sessions for prospective players and conducted out of season practice.

"Members of the university basketball squad considered attendance at these practice sessions to be mandatory, and coaches were present at several sessions to provide instructions to players," he said.

The St. Bonaventure penalty resulted from an expense-paid trip for a prospect to an NCAA basketball tournament, Bergstrom said. A university representative provided lodging and several meals for friends of the prospect also attending the tournament, he added.

Bergstrom said technically the three schools are on probation, but the penalty will affect nothing except their basketball teams.

In Tallahassee, Florida State Athletic Director Vaughn Mancha said the basketball coaches used poor judgement in allowing the infractions to take place and have been reprimanded.

"I don't think it will have much of a damaging effect on our team," FC coach Hugh Durham said. "The team is disappointed, especially the seniors, because we feel like we have the potential to return to the NCAA."

Baldwin Uses Grid Talents

Detroit (AP) — It took a run much longer than the length of a football field and two tackles, but former Los Angeles Rams' football player George Baldwin got his man.

Police said that Baldwin, who played defensive cornerback for the Rams was walking with a friend past a shop Monday night when he noticed a man rifling a cash register inside.

Baldwin told officers he knocked on the window and the man slipped out a back door.

The chase was on and more than a half-mile away, Baldwin caught the runner.

Baldwin, 26, now a law student at the University of Michigan, told police he threw the runner to the ground when the man pulled a screwdriver on him.

Baldwin said the man got up and ran another 10 yards, and the ex-football player tackled him again.

'Kitten' Hayward Upsets No. 1 Contender Griffith

Philadelphia (AP) — Stanley "Kitten" Hayward scored a stunning upset Tuesday night over former middleweight champion Emile Griffith, winning a 10-round split-decision at the Spectrum.

Hayward, the No. 6-ranked welterweight contender, was given identical 47-46 verdicts by judge Lou Trees and referee Zack Clayton. Judge Jack Styles carded Griffith a 47-44 victor. The Associated Press had Griffith a 48-43 winner.

Griffith, the No. 1-ranking middleweight contender, was a 9-5 favorite over Hayward of Philadelphia.

Griffith, who had a one-pound edge at 156, almost salvaged the fight in the final round as he pounded Hayward with hard lefts and rights that had the winner in trouble.

The defeat was only the 10th against 56 victories for the New Yorker, who last March lost the middleweight crown to Nino Benvenuti of Italy. For Hayward, it was his 26th victory against three defeats and three draws.

Hayward had the edge in the early rounds as he connected from long range with rights to Griffith's face and lefts to the body.

His strategy was to keep off the ropes and to force Griffith to fight in the center of the ring.

When Griffith was able to bull Hayward toward the ropes, the one-time milliner from the Virgin Islands was able to score handily in the close-range punching.

After an even first round, Hayward landed hard left hooks and rights to the head in the second round. He shook up Griffith again in the third with a right to the face.

The 30-year-old Griffith, who only two months ago ended the 24-fight streak of unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris, picked up steam in the fourth round as he punded Hayward to the body.

The Philadelphian, however, in the eyes of the judge and referee who awarded him the verdict, apparently was more impressive with his long-range punching than Griffith was inside.

Schneiss May Start Saturday, Fullback

. . . DECKER MIGHT GET ANOTHER CHANCE

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Sophomore Dan Schneiss has been alternating with All-Big Eight fullback Dick Davis and Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney said Tuesday Schneiss may get the starting call when the Huskers face Iowa State at Ames Saturday.

Devaney said Schneiss, a 6-2, 206-pounder from West Bend, Wis., "has been pretty steady and we just might give him a chance to start."

The Husker coach said he felt Davis had not quite been playing up to his capabilities lately.

John Decker, another sophomore who handled punt returns against Oklahoma State, may be given another chance this Saturday, despite a fumble which nearly cost the Huskers a victory against the Cowboys.

Devaney said Decker has been very sure-handed in practice, although he was a little shaky in his first varsity start last week.

However, Devaney said Tom Heller, a sophomore from Kearney, was also in the running for the punt returning job, along with junior Al Larson, who has recovered from a stomach ailment which slowed him last week.

The Nebraska coach said the Huskers "have been trying to prepare for an Iowa State team which has one of the better offenses we have faced. "They are operating it better every week," Devaney added.

Devaney said breaks were part of the reason the Cyclones were drubbed 46-25 by Kansas last Saturday and he felt the Iowa State team showed it could move the ball against Kansas.

"We checked how they scored (against Kansas)," Devaney said. "When they started to move against Kansas, the Jayhawks put their first string back in," Devaney noted.

Devaney said the Iowa State defense appeared fairly sound, too. He noted that Kansas got three of its touchdowns against Iowa State with the help of breaks.

"Iowa State did a good job defensing Kansas' bread and butter plays. They did a good job against Donnie Shanklin and Kansas' wide plays, but they didn't stop the big kid up the middle," the Husker coach said.

Devaney said he hoped the 21-point second-half against Oklahoma State (that brought NU a 21-20 victory) would help give his Huskers some confidence.

"We played about as well offensively the second half as we can," Devaney said. "We are starting to execute better. We just need to bust loose and get more confidence in ourselves. I think that second half should have helped," Devaney said.

Defense Stressed By Sumner

. . . SIMMONS DIRECTS BALANCED OFFENSE

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

"Always a bridesmaid, but never the bride," no longer applies to Sumner. The Mustangs, after being No. 2 to leader Pilger in Class D since the season began, moved to the top spot with their seventh straight victory, when Pilger stumbled for the first time.

Sumner coach Jim Hesse says that "defense is the name of the game as far as we are concerned," even though his club has averaged over 30 points a-game.

"We haven't allowed a touchdown pass to be thrown against us since we started 11-man football two years ago," the proud Sumner grid boss said. "And the boys really take a great deal of pride in the tough defense they play."

Seven Sumner foes have been held to a grand total of 26 points. Five were blanked, while the other two managed a pair of touchdowns apiece.

Quarterback Dan Simmons has done an outstanding job of directing a balanced running and passing offense, according to Hesse, calling on "our two big running backs, 190-pound tailback Dick Porter and 180-pound fullback Vick Rhode most of the time."

Simmons' favorite targets are Curt Knispel, Larry Bentley and Tim Moomey. While hitting on 50 per cent of his tosses, Simmons has pitched to Knispel 13 times for 331 yards and six touchdowns.

The other two have grabbed 19 aerials to account for six more TD's.

In the Class D ratings Pilger just dropped to third after losing a close 19-13 decision to Class C Humphrey St. Francis. The same five teams are still in the upper half of the ratings.

Eight-man saw even less change. The same top nine teams, headed by powerful Sterling in the No. 1 spot, are in the exact same order as a week ago. The only switch comes in the final position where Wheatland replaces Milligan.

★ ★ ★ ★

Nebraska Prep Ratings

By Virgil Parker

Class D

1—Sumner (7-0)
2—Dix (7-0)
3—Pilger (6-1)
4—Wolbach (7-0)
5—Chappel (5-2)
6—Loomis (6-1)
7—Beemer (6-1)
8—Polk (5-2)
9—Elwood (5-2)
10—Davenport (5-2)

Comment — Pilger, the season-long Class D leader, dropped its first game to a rated C team and dropped to third. The same five teams in the top half of the ratings stand pat, however. Lower half shuffled as three teams lose to good Class C clubs.

Eight-Man

1—Sterling (7-0)
2—Gresham (7-0)
3—Hardy (7-0)
4—Trenton (6-0)
5—Paxton (6-0)
6—Orchard (6-0)
7—Elmwood (6-1)
8—Platte Center (7-0)
9—Maywood (7-0)
10—Wheatland (5-1)

Comment — It was a case of everybody wins in the eight-man ranks last week. And all by whopping scores. So the top nine rated teams stay just as they were a week ago. Wheatland rejoined the group after Milligan lost its second game.

Kansan Hits 3,000 Mark In Offense

Kansas quarterback Bobby Douglass became only the 13th person in Big Eight history to account for over 3,000 total offensive yards when he boosted his total to 3,007 with a 217-yard day against Iowa State.

Another 200-yard day would vault him to seve 'h on the conference career yardage list and a 3,800 career total would give him a Kansas record.

Douglass has also become the 12th Big Eight quarterback to pass for over 2,000 yards. His total of 2,235 passing yards places him 11th in the Big Eight's career chart.

The KU signal-caller is assured of at least two 'Big Eight records in interception avoidance. He has thrown 94 straight without a theft, a seasonal standard, while he has 95 consecutive without an interception for a career record.

Shula Selects Morrall To Start Against NY

New York (AP) — Coach Don Shula of the Baltimore Cots told the New York Giants Tuesday that ex-Giant Earl Morrall will be his starting quarterback for Sunday's National Football League game at Yankee Stadium.

"John Unitas' status will depend upon how he works in practice," said Shula in a telephone hookup to the Giants' luncheon. "We hope he comes around and will be available. But Morrall will start."

Ferguson Gets Nod For Award

. . . 'COMPLETE PLAYER'

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Football strategists have long said it is inadvisable to pass when close to the opponents goal. Receivers don't have enough room to maneuver.

Don't tell Elmwood's Don Ferguson. He makes a specialty of completing an aerial for extra points after touchdowns. Against Elk Creek this past week he pulled the trick four times.

Of course he likes to throw from farther out too. Ferguson pitched a 36-yard strike to Gene Kirchoff for one touchdown, then found Steve Lawson in the end zone for a 21-yard strike on another.

Just for added good measure, Ferguson dashed 35 yards on one touchdown jaunt of his own, then banged over from four yards out to have his hand in four touchdowns to go with those four extra point passes.

It all added up to Player of the Week honors for the 150-pound senior quarterback.

Ferguson, who Elmwood coach Larry Horstman calls a truly complete player, has had the Pirates in the top ten ratings among the state's eight-man teams throughout the season. The only loss in seven games came at the hands of No. 1 Sterling.

Others who had outstanding games during the past week and deserve special mention include:

Mark Cooper, Sargent — It's difficult to do better than perfect. Seven times they threw the ball in the direction of this end, seven times Cooper made the grab, for a total of 207 yards, or nearly 30 yards per reception.

Joe Eichelberger, Beemer — Averaged nearly 10 yards per try on 15 carries while leading his club to a 58-0 rout of Rosalie. Scored twice, passed for another.

Dave Ramaekers, Genoa—Rambled to four touchdowns in Genoa's conquest of Silver Creek last week.

Jim Divis, Wahoo — Played a big part in a win that put Wahoo in the Class C top ten while knocking Blair from the ranks. A hard-running back who was also a terror on defense. His pass interceptions stymied any Blair comeback hopes.

Mark Schmeeckle, Gering — Gering had the ball 17 times against Kimball last week, and scored touchdowns on 13 of the drives. Mark tallied five TD's while rolling up 209 yards rushing the 16 times he carried to lead the attack.

Rick Doty, Grand Island — A junior quarterback who does it all. Runs, passes, punts and kicks the extra points. The Islanders owe the 13-12 win over Lincoln Northeast to him. He ran for one TD, passed for the other, kicked the extra point that decided the game, then punted 57 yards to the Northeast five yard line to thwart any comeback hopes the Rockets had.

Big Eight Offenses Hit Peak?

Kansas City (AP) — Big Eight football teams averaged 32 points and 400 yards total offense against each other in four conference games last Saturday, and Monday several coaches were asked for an explanation to this "offensive explosion."

None had any concrete conclusions, but the consensus was two-fold: The Big Eight has perhaps its finest collection of offensive talent in history, and the defenses probably aren't what they used to be.

"I imagine there is more talent on the offensive teams," said Missouri's Dan Devine, who attended Monday's weekly Big Eight briefing session and whose usually conservative Tigers scored 56 points against Kansas State last Saturday.

"I don't think there has been more emphasis placed on offense," Devine added. "That would be the easy answer. I think it's basically because of the fine offensive football players in our conference."

Colorado's Eddie Crowder pointed to "the return of key offensive players" on several Big Eight teams and added, "We have played two-platoon football long enough to develop special skills on offense."

Then Crowder added as a postscript: "We gave up over 500 yards and 27 points to Oklahoma, so obviously we have room for improvement."

Phil Cutchin of Oklahoma State said, "In our case, it's poor defense. We feel our offense is pretty good, but our defense has just played poorly."

Kansas State's Vince Gibson singled out the conference's array of outstanding quarterbacks. "If you've got a great quarterback," he said, "you've got a great offense. Everybody in this conference has good backs."

Pepper Rodgers of Kansas, whose Jayhawks are 6-0, third-ranked nationally and averaging 45.2 points a game, offered this: "One factor is that in college football you only have three days to prepare a defense for a given offense. And everybody has different offenses. You don't have time to adequately prepare your defense."

"We're evidentally, not very good on defense," said Chuck Fairbanks of Oklahoma, whose Sooners have yielded 26.6 points a game. "Our offensive team has probably played better than it did last year, and I think this is general throughout the conference."

Indy Gets Steam Car Inquiries

Indianapolis, Ind. — Two inquiries about the possibility of entering steam cars in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race have been received by Henry Banks, director of competition for the U.S. Auto Club.

The answer was the same: USAC will evaluate any new type of power plant, set stnadards, then evaluate it again after a season racing.

The inquiries came from Lear Jet Aircraft Builders and from Andy Granatelli of STP Corp.

Granatelli, who contends his revolutionary gas turbine cars were put out of business by two years of USAC "re-evaluations" cutting their size, also asked about the German Wrankel Power Plant.

The Wankel Plant is a novel engine, used in a small sports car, which has no crank shaft, connecting rods, pistons or conventional valves.

Dave Blackmer, STP publicity director, said Granatelli was not proposing to construct a steam car at this time but just wanted to get assurance that such an engine would be legal for three years without rules changes.

He said the same assurance was needed before going to work on the Wankel, which he said would take at least 18 months to convert to USAC racing and would cost $250,000.

Banks said there was no way of knowing whether either a steam or a Wankel engine would be merely competitive or vastly superior to conventional piston engines. He said after apparently fair standards were set, they would have to be reconsidered after some actual competition.

USAC directors twice cut the air intake area on Granatelli's turbine cars on the theory that they were unfairly fast and powerful. They have been pulled out of competition for next year, without making the necessary adjustments, because Granatelli contends they no longer will be competitive.

In spite of setting a string of qualifying records in USAC championship races, the turbines have yet to win one.

Car Accident Claims Met Pitcher McCready

New York (AP) — The New York Mets learned Tuesday that Mike McCready, a 19-year-old pitcher from El Segundo, Calif. who had recently been advanced to the major league roster, died Monday afternoon as the result of injuries suffered in an auto accident in Los Angeles Friday.

McCready, moved to the big club, Oct. 25 on his 19th birthday, had a 7-8 record at Visalia, Calif. in the California League last season and struck out 172 in 160 innings.

Davis, Orduna Said 2 Of Big 8's Best

. . . THREE BUFFS AILING

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Nebraska, Iowa State's football opponent in Ames this Saturday, "has two of the best running backs in the Big Eight Conference," Cyclone coach Johnny Majors said Tuesday.

Majors added that the Cornhuskers also have "an effective passing game," are "outstanding" on defense, and "will be an extremely strong football team."

Majors said Nebraska halfback Joe Orduna has gained 440 yards in six games while fullback Dick Davis has netted 335 yards rushing.

Missouri

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Missouri finished its football practice under the lights Tuesday, a workout which coach Dan Devine said "started out below average and ended up above average."

Quarterback Terry McMillan, who has been suffering from badly bruised ribs, took part in a play-polishing session but his status for Saturday's game with Oklahoma State here remains doubtful.

"He's still pretty sore," Devine said.

Mike Farmer, a sophomore quarterback, moved over from the scouting team to work with the varsity. Farmer will be the back-up man for Garnett Phelps if McMillan is unable to play.

Kansas

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — The next threat to Kansas University's unblemished record is Colorado, whose Buffalo polished off Oklahoma 41-27 last weekend.

Coach Pepper Rodgers was asked Tuesday if Colorado wasn't much more threatening than might have been expected six games ago.

With needles cast in the direction of the Skywriters Tour — Midwest sportswriters who visit the camps prior to the season — Rodgers replied:

"No. We were picked to finish fourth in the conference, and they, Colorado were picked for fifth. So it's a battle between about what everybody expected."

The Jayhawks' injury situation was alleviated somewhat with the announcement that offensive tackle Larry Brown, who didn't play against Iowa State because of a touch of mononucleosis, should be all right for Colorado.

Colorado

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Three University of Colorado regulars were in the infirmary Tuesday for examination of what might be a type of flu, coaches said.

They are fullbacks Ward Walsh and Tom Nigbur and cornerback Pat Murphy.

Coaches said it is hoped the three would be released sometime today.

Colorado had a relatively light workout Tuesday, but no scrimmage because of the absence of the two fullbacks. Middle guard Bill Collins, who missed the Oklahoma game because of a bruised shoulder, remains on the doubtful list for Saturday's game at Kansas.

Oklahoma

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma football coach Chuck Fairbanks said Tuesday he thinks his squad has "bounced back well mentally from Saturday's disappointing loss to Colorado."

The defending Big Eight champions lost at Colorado last Saturday, 41-27.

Fairbanks said the Sooners spent considerable time Tuesday on pass defense against Kansas State formations. Oklahoma hosts Kansas State next Saturday.

Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan. UPI) — Kansas State worked out for two hours Tuesday in preparation for its game Saturday at Oklahoma.

Coach Vince Gibson called the practice "spirited."

"We've got to keep working and snap out of our slump," he said in reference to the Wildcats' three-game losing streak which has seen opponents roll up a total of 116 points.

Oklahoma State

"Offensively, we had a good practice," said Cutchin. "But defensively we were very lady-like.

"I feel strongly this isn't a good way to play against a good team and particularly a team as good as Missouri."

Stocks Slump In Dull Market

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 7.85 to 951.08.

Unless the atmosphere in Wall Street changes radically, some analysts said, the downtrend could result in a test of 930 in the Dow.

The same doubts plagued the market as in other recent sessions. Some reports were that the North Vietnamese attitude toward genuine peace moves had hardened and nothing much could be expected until after election. New from Washington was that top U.S. officials saw no quick, simple solution to the Vietnam war that would be acceptable.

Meanwhile, confusion about the outcome of the presidential election, only a week hence, continued to dominate the minds of many people. The final drive of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had created doubts about what had been regarded previously as an easy victory for Richard M. Nixon.

As stocks had risen in past weeks because of warm hopes of a Vietnam solution and expectations of Nixon's election, both of these major psychological elements were largely canceled out and stocks retreated, analysts said.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.8 to 352.6, with industrails off 3.3, rails off .6, and utilities off .7.

Of 1,575 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 899 declined, and 482 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 50 and new lows 20.

In spite of the dull downtrend, there were 9 gainers of 6 losers among the 15 most-active stocks.

Mohasco was the volume leader, off 1¾ at 41¼ on 273,300 shares. Most of this came from a single block of 249,800 shares at 41.

American Stock Exchange prices fell on volume of 4.73 million shares compared with 5.80 million Monday.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Economic Facts Of Life Must Be Learned Anew

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Herd Instincts

Each generation must discover anew the facts of life.

If there is economic distress, the uninformed charge that capitalism has broken down.

On the other hand, after 91 record-breaking months of high level business activity and employment, the disenchanted, bored with affluence, are seeking excitement through destroying the productive system.

During the depressed Nineteen Thirties, there was a tendency to seek safety in herd instincts. Instead of growth, the articulate advocated "sharing the work." There was a sudden shift from self reliance to dependence on Mama Government.

Three decades ago in his column, in lectures and in three brochures, including "Sell the Business as Well as the Product," this writer urged modern corporations to include in their promotional plans so-called institutional advertising, which would alert the man on the street to operating principles which make for rising living standards.

Bipartisan Recognition

Recently there has been bipartisan recognition in this election year of the limitations on expectation of progress through undue reliance on government subsidies. To his credit, the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, eager to improve living conditons in urban slums, advocated using the initiative and energies of private enterprise, and in the other major party former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and others have supported this thesis.

There is reaction away from the earlier hue and cry by John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard heterodox economist, to the effect that we Americans were spending too large a ratio of our resources through the private sector (voluntary business) and too little through the public sector (compulsory governmental action). The frustrations of letting George (the government) do it have begun to reverse sophisticated thinking. Of course, one advantage of private enterprise lies in the basic fact that its survival depends on pleasing customers and giving them optimum free choice. On the other hand, government relies on compulsion.

In the ancient wheeze about the man who protested to the radical agitator that he didn't like strawberries, it will be recalled that the revolutionist replied: "Come the revolution, and you'll eat strawberries!"

Diffferent Purposes

Messrs. Fred G. Clark and Richard S. Rimanoczy, students of what makes the economic system tick, recently pointed out: "Basically the difference in the economic effectiveness of government enterprise versus private enterprise lies in the purposes behind the two types of activities. Government gives things to the people. Private enterprises spend money on the things they know the people want and are willing to pay for. The acid test of private enterprise is the presence or absence of profit. Government enterprise faces no such test. This is the basic fact that is finally being recognized."

Orlando F. Weber, builder of Allied Chemical, set an example in using the power of business success for education and research. He did not emulate inefficient farmers who mined the soil and left the country poorer in resources. Weber used his strength to improve the nation by creating greater popular understanding of the nature of material wellbeing. He invented the short form of accounting to bring corporate activities within the focus of contemporary social political debate.

Weber's studies disclosed the social utility of capital, and revealed that the bulk of the rewards of business go to workers, with only a small contingent fraction going to owners as distributed profit.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Fed Cattle Are Steady At Omaha

Steers met a fair demand and sold steady. Most heifers ruled steady to weak at Monday's late decline with some heifer buyers not particularly eager for volume. The pressure continued throughout the session, with some closing sales another 25 cents in instances.

The cow market also felt the economy drive as values turned steady to 25 cents lower, most decline on boners.

Slaughter receipts were again light, the two day handle running to about 14,500 head. Some two thousand feeder arrivals were being held for Friday's auction. The two-day feeder cattle tab was estimated at 12,200 head.

Hog prices Tuesday advanced 25-50. Supplies were again moderate and demand good.

Wheat, Corn Price Climb Best Of Year

Chicago (AP) — Wheat and corn futures posted the biggest price advances of the year on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday and influenced higher prices for all other commodities on the exchange.

Trade was mixed and fairly active through most of the session and bordered on the frantic in the closing minutes.

There were several factors that tended to influence the corn and wheat advances. Wet weather has held back some early harvest work and the government reported that some areas of the Corn Belt had reported trouble with insect damage.

The government also reported that some large firms that had contracted earlier in the season for grain elevator space now had relinquished it and the trade viewed this as anticipating lower yields.

When trade closed, wheat was 2¾ to 4½ cents a bushel higher, December 1.28¾; corn was 2 to 3¼ cents higher, December 1.12¾; oats were ⅛ to ⅝ higher, December 67⅛ cents; rye was 1¼ to 2 cents higher, December 1.19¼; and soybeans were ⅛ to 1½ cents higher, November 2.50⅛.

Ryan Will Speak During Accident Prevention Meet

Alliance — "The Challenge of Change" will be the subject of Thomas P. Ryan, featured speaker at the luncheon session of the Western Nebraska Accident Prevention Institute scheduled for Alliance Friday. Ryan is manager of the Accident Records Bureau for the State of Nebraska.

Ryan will discuss changing factors influencing traffic accidents in Nebraska and will suggest ways in which these new problems can be attacked through accident prevention and control.

The institute, which is sponsored by the Nebraska Safety Council, will be the first one held in the western part of the state.

Soviet Vessels Anchor Nearby

NATO officials said it has become standard practice for Soviet ships in the Mediterranean to monitor 6th Fleet exercises.

Czechs Seek Refuge

Bern, Switzerland (UPI) — The ministry of justice announced that 1,650 Czechoslovaks have asked for political asylum in Switzerland since the August invasion by Soviet troops.

Laughing-Hubert Ad Is Shown Again

Washington (AP) — The Democratic National Committee complained Tuesday night that Republicans had shown a second time a television commercial depicting Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey laughing amid scenes of war, rioting and poverty.

The one-minute commercial, the committee said, was carried by WDAF-TV, an NBC affiliate in Kansas City, Mo., less than a day after it was announced the advertisement was being temporarily withdrawn.

In Kansas City, Jerry Hellard, WDAF-TV program director, confirmed the commercial was shown, and said the station had received about 100 telephone complaints.

News Program

Ironically, the ad was spotted during a break in the Huntley-Brinkley news program, shortly after one of the newscasters announced the ad would not be carried again, Hellard said.

After investigating the circumstances, Hellard explained that a telegram from the Republican National Committee directing WDAF to cancel the advertisement arrived shortly after the telecast.

The commercial has been removed from the station's schedule, he said.

It was not immediately determined who paid for the air time.

The laughing-Humphrey commercial was first shown during NBC's "Rowan and Martin Laugh-in" Monday night and brought about 200 protesting calls to the network.

'Political Pornography'

After the Kansas City showing, O'Brien said he was asking the Fair Campaign Practices Committee to investigate "this further violation of campaign ethics."

Earlier Tuesday, a spokesman for Richard M. Nixon reported the commercial was being withdrawn but defended it on grounds that some Democratic commercials have been "distasteful, distorted and in the poorest of taste."

The Democratic National Committee denied this and referred to the Republican-sponsored ad as "a smear in keeping with Nixon's below-the-belt reputation in politics and unworthy of a man running for the nation's highest office."

State Delegation, Tiemann Praised For Bond Change

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann and members of the Nebraska congressional delegation deserve "a pat on the back" for their efforts to obtain a change in industrial development bonding regulations, Bennett Martin said Tuesday.

Martin, chairman of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development's advisory committee, referred to an increase from $1 million to $5 million per project in the maximum of tax exempt bonds which may be issued to finance new and expanding industry.

Martin said valuable assistance came also from the state's investment banking community, Lincoln lawyer Richard N. Thompson, and Chambers of Commerce and industrial development groups in the state.

The ceiling increase became effective last Thursday when President Johnson signed into law the renegotiation act, carrying an amendment introduced by Nebraska Sen. Carl T. Curtis The amendment states that the bonds together with the total capital expenditure made by a company, including outstanding bonds from prior issues or public funds if used, shall not exceed $5 million for the period of three years before and three years after the issuance of the bonds.

Nixon Gets 78% In UC Mock Vote

The election, sponsored by the Associated Student Body, drew 515 students or 52% of the college pepulation.

Coming in second was independent candidate George C. Wallace with 67 votes or 13% of the total votes cast. Democratic candidate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey got 46 votes or 9% of the votes.

Humphrey Backed

Honolulu (UPI) — The Honolulu Advertiser has endorsed Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidency.

State PTA Convention Topic Told

"PTA Communications in Modern America" is the topic for the state convention of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, the board of managers announced Tuesday.

About 40 officers and district directors made plans for the April 16 and 17 meeting in McCook. The directors were meeting here in a semi-annual meeting.

The convention will explore the communications between the parent and child, the parent and school and the parent and the community, Mrs. Harold H. Thompson, state PTA president, said.

The group also discussed bills that might come before the unicameral concerning welfare, institutions for children and quality education.

Stocks Slump In Dull Market

The Dow Jones industrial average declined 6.65 to 951.08.

Unless the atmosphere in Wall Street changes radically, some analysts said, the downtrend could result in a test of 930 in the Dow.

The same doubts plagued the market as in other recent sessions. Some reports were that the North Vietnamese attitude toward genuine peace moves had hardened and nothing much could be expected until after election. New from Washington was that top U.S. officials saw no quick, simple solution to the Vietnam war that would be acceptable.

Meanwhile, confusion about the outcome of the presidential election, only a week hence, continued to dominate the minds of many people. The final drive of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had created doubts about what had been regarded previously as an easy victory for Richard M. Nixon.

As stocks had risen in past weeks because of warm hopes of a Vietnam solution and expectations of Nixon's election, both of these major psychological elements were largely canceled out and stocks retreated, analysts said.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.8 to 352.6, with industrails off 3.3, rails off .6, and utilities off .7.

Of 1,575 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 899 declined, and 482 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 50 and new lows 20.

In spite of the dull downtrend, there were 9 gainers of 6 losers among the 15 most-active stocks.

Mohasco was the volume leader, off 1¾ at 41¼ on 273,300 shares. Most of this came from a single block of 249,800 shares at 41.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Economic Facts Of Life Must Be Learned Anew

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Herd Instincts

Each generation must discover anew the facts of life.

If there is economic distress, the uninformed charge that capitalism has broken down.

On the other hand, after 91 record-breaking months of high level business activity and employment, the disenchanted, bored with affluence, are seeking excitement through destroying the productive system.

During the depressed Nineteen Thirties, there was a tendency to seek safety in herd instincts. Instead of growth, the articulate advocated "sharing the work." There was a sudden shift from self reliance to dependence on Mama Government.

Three decades ago in his column, in lectures and in three brochures, including "Sell the Business as Well as the Product," this writer urged modern corporations to include in their promotional plans so-called institutional advertising, which would alert the man on the street to operating principles which make for rising living standards.

Bipartisan Recognition

Recently there has been bipartisan recognition in this election year of the limitations on expectation of progress through undue reliance on government subsidies. To his credit, the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, eager to improve living conditons in urban slums, advocated using the initiative and energies of private enterprise, and in the other major party former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and others have supported this thesis.

There is reaction away from the earlier hue and cry by John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard heterodox economist, to the effect that we Americans were spending too large a ratio of our resources through the private sector (voluntary business) and too little through the public sector (compulsory governmental action). The frustrations of letting George (the government) do it have begun to reverse sophisticated thinking. Of course, one advantage of private enterprise lies in the basic fact that its survival depends on pleasing customers and giving them optimum free choice. On the other hand, government relies on compulsion.

In the ancient wheeze about the man who protested to the radical agitator that he didn't like strawberries, it will be recalled that the revolutionist replied: "Come the revolution, and you'll eat strawberries!"

Different Purposes

Messrs. Fred G. Clark and Richard S. Rimanoczy, students of what makes the economic system tick, recently pointed out: "Basically the difference in the economic effectiveness of government enterprise versus private enterprise lies in the purposes behind the two types of activities. Government gives things to the people. Private enterprises spend money on the things they know the people want and are willing to pay for. The acid test of private enterprise is the presence or absence of profit. Government enterprise faces no such test. This is the basic fact that is finally being recognized."

Orlando F. Weber, builder of Allied Chemical, set an example in using the power of business success for education and research. He did not emulate inefficient farmers who mined the soil and left the country poorer in resources. Weber used his strength to improve the nation by creating greater popular understanding of the nature of material wellbeing. He invented the short form of accounting to bring corporate activities within the focus of contemporary social political debate.

Weber's studies disclosed the social utility of capital, and revealed that the bulk of the rewards of business go to workers, with only a small contingent fraction going to owners as distributed profit.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Fed Cattle Are Steady At Omaha

Steers met a fair demand and sold steady. Most heifers ruled steady to weak at Monday's late decline with some heifer buyers not particularly eager for volume. The pressure continued throughout the session, with some closing sales another 25 cents in instances.

The cow market also felt the economy drive as values turned steady to 25 cents lower, most decline on boners.

Slaughter receipts were again light, the two day handle running to about 14,500 head. Some two thousand feeder arrivals were being held for Friday's auction. The two-day feeder cattle tab was estimated at 12,200 head.

Hog prices Tuesday advanced 25-50. Supplies were again moderate and demand good.

Slaughter lambs sold steady.

Wheat, Corn Price Climb Best Of Year

Chicago (AP) — Wheat and corn futures posted the biggest price advances of the year on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday and influenced higher prices for all other commodities on the exchange.

Trade was mixed and fairly active through most of the session and bordered on the frantic in the closing minutes.

There were several factors that tended to influence the corn and wheat advances. Wet weather has held back some early harvest work and the government reported that some areas of the Corn Belt had reported trouble with insect damage.

The government also reported that some large firms that had contracted earlier in the season for grain elevator space now had relinquished it and the trade viewed this as anticipating lower yields.

When trade closed, wheat was 2¾ to 4½ cents a bushel higher, December 1.28¾; corn was 2 to 3¼ cents higher, December 1.12¾; oats were ⅛ to ⅝ higher, December 67⅛ cents; rye was 1¼ to 2 cents higher, December 1.19¼; and soybeans were ⅛ to 1½ cents higher, November 2.50⅛.

Ryan Will Speak During Accident Prevention Meet

Alliance — "The Challenge of Change" will be the subject of Thomas P. Ryan, featured speaker at the luncheon session of the Western Nebraska Accident Prevention Institute scheduled for Alliance Friday. Ryan is manager of the Accident Records Bureau for the State of Nebraska.

Ryan will discuss changing factors influencing traffic accidents in Nebraska and will suggest ways in which these new problems can be attacked through accident prevention and control.

The institute, which is sponsored by the Nebraska Safety Council, will be the first one held in the western part of the state.

Soviet Vessels Anchor Nearby

Cagliari, Sardinia (UPI) — A Soviet guided-missile destroyer and a cruiser apparently monitoring a U.S. 6th Fleet exercise anchored Tuesday just outside the Gulf of Cagliari within clear view of the coast.

NATO officials said it has become standard practice for Soviet ships in the Mediterranean to monitor 6th Fleet exercises.

Czechs Seek Refuge

Bern, Switzerland (UPI) — The ministry of justice announced that 1,650 Czechoslovaks have asked for political asylum in Switzerland since the August invasion by Soviet troops.

Laughing-Hubert Ad Is Shown Again

Washington (AP) — The Democratic National Committee complained Tuesday night that Republicans had shown a second time a television commercial depicting Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey laughing amid scenes of war, rioting and poverty.

The one-minute commercial, the committee said, was carried by WDAF-TV, an NBC affiliate in Kansas City, Mo., less than a day after it was announced the advertisement was being temporarily withdrawn.

In Kansas City, Jerry Hellard, WDAF-TV program director, confirmed the commercial was shown, and said the station had received about 100 telephone complaints.

News Program

Ironically, the ad was spotted during a break in the Huntley-Brinkley news program, shortly after one of the newscasters announced the ad would not be carried again, Hellard said.

After investigating the circumstances, Hellard explained that a telegram from the Republican National Committee directing WDAF to cancel the advertisement arrived shortly after the telecast.

The commercial has been removed from the station's schedule, he said.

It was not immediately determined who paid for the air time.

The laughing-Humphrey commercial was first shown during NBC's "Rowan and Martin Laugh-in" Monday night and brought about 200 protesting calls to the network.

'Political Pornography'

After the Kansas City showing, O'Brien said he was asking the Fair Campaign Practices Committee to investigate "this further violation of campaign ethics."

Earlier Tuesday, a spokesman for Richard M. Nixon reported the commercial was being withdrawn but defended it on grounds that some Democratic commercials have been "distasteful, distorted and in the poorest of taste."

The Democratic National Committee denied this and referred to the Republican-sponsored ad as "a smear in keeping with Nixon's below-the-belt reputation in politics and unworthy of a man running for the nation's highest office."

State Delegation, Tiemann Praised For Bond Change

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann and members of the Nebraska congressional delegation deserve "a pat on the back" for their efforts to obtain a change in industrial development bonding regulations, Bennett Martin said Tuesday.

Martin, chairman of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development's advisory committee, referred to an increase from $1 million to $5 million per project in the maximum of tax exempt bonds which may be issued to finance new and expanding industry.

Martin said valuable assistance came also from the state's investment banking community, Lincoln lawyer Richard N. Thompson, and Chambers of Commerce and industrial development groups in the state.

The ceiling increase became effective last Thursday when President Johnson signed into law the renegotiation act, carrying an amendment introduced by Nebraska Sen. Carl T. Curtis The amendment states that the bonds together with the total capital expenditure made by a company, including outstanding bonds from prior issues or public funds if used, shall not exceed $5 million for the period of three years before and three years after the issuance of the bonds.

Nixon Gets 78% In UC Mock Vote

The election, sponsored by the Associated Student Body, drew 515 students or 52% of the college pepulation.

Coming in second was independent candidate George C. Wallace with 67 votes or 13% of the total votes cast. Democratic candidate Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey got 46 votes or 9% of the votes.

Humphrey Backed

Honolulu (UPI) — The Honolulu Advertiser has endorsed Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidency.

State PTA Convention Topic Told

"PTA Communications in Modern America" is the topic for the state convention of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, the board of managers announced Tuesday.

About 40 officers and district directors made plans for the April 16 and 17 meeting in McCook. The directors were meeting here in a semi-annual meeting.

The convention will explore the communications between the parent and child, the parent and school and the parent and the community, Mrs. Harold H. Thompson, state PTA president, said.

The group also discussed bills that might come before the unicameral concerning welfare, institutions for children and quality education.

TO A FEW OF LINCOLN'S SMART PEOPLE

Last week we ran a nasty ad in the paper to stir those up who do nothing but complain and gripe about being unemployed. Several of the smart ones came in and registered with us and most of them were hired.

We are not miracle people — just plain simple folks ourselves trying to make a living.

So folks if you are looking for work come and see us.

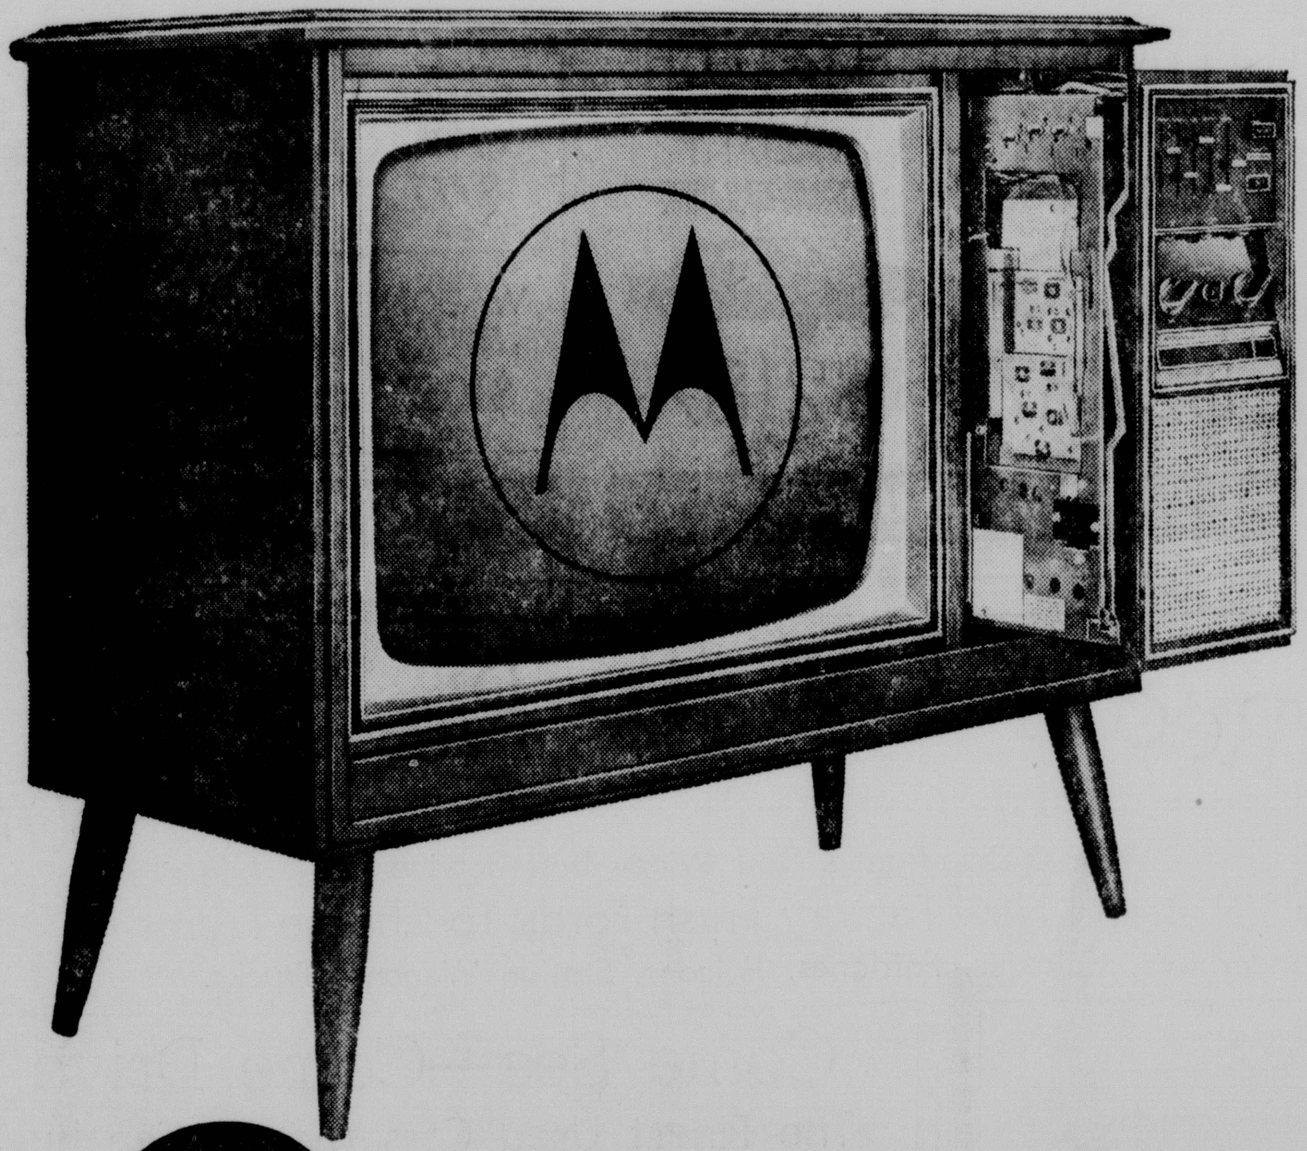
Be bored no more!

Get the Color TV with the works in a drawer.



The works in a drawer: 10 tubeless solid-state mini-circuits for solid dependability. Quasar is Color TV that stays at home working, not in the repair shop.

Have you been a color TV holdout? A little afraid of all the service problems? Hold out no more. Look into Quasar... color TV with the works in a drawer.

Just what is it that's made Quasar worth waiting for? (Other than a beautiful picture, great color and style?) Two important things. The dependability of solid state electronics. And fast, at-home service you can only get when the works are in a drawer.

In Quasar, most components except the rectifier and picture tube are solid-state. They're tubeless mini-circuits...designed to work without burning themselves out. They plug in in minutes, if service is ever needed.

A serviceman simply opens the drawer at the front of the set. Snaps in a replacement circuit. Closes the drawer. And that's it. You might miss the kickoff and part of the first half, but not much more. In most cases service is handled in your home, not the shop.

So, why look for another excuse? Go to your Motorola dealer and look into Quasar instead. We're so impressed with Quasar reliability, we've guaranteed it (everything, picture tube and chassis parts) for two years.

Bet you'll be impressed, too.

Two Year Registered Guarantee on Picture Tube and All Parts

Original owner guarantee covers free exchange or repair of parts proven defective in normal use. Arranged through selling dealers. Labor and transportation extra. Guarantee not valid unless guarantee card mailed to Motorola within ten days after delivery of set.

Quasar™ Color TV

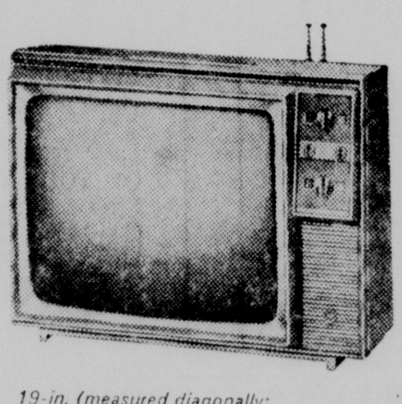
by MOTOROLA®

Don't miss seeing our other big Motorola values:

There's everything for viewing pleasure in color TV and black and white, in both portable and console styles. And for great listening, try the sound quality you'll find in our Motorola console stereos, phonographs, and radios.

23-in. (measured diagonally; 295 sq. in.) Color TV

Enjoy natural color viewing on this big rectangular-screen Color TV. Has automatic fine tuning with AFC picture lock, plus lighted channel indicators. CU819E



19-in. (measured diagonally; 184 sq. in.) Portable Black/White TV

Big-screen portable has instant picture and sound. And for extra dependability there are solid-state components at 17 vital points. Durable polystyrene cabinet in light beige. BP510D

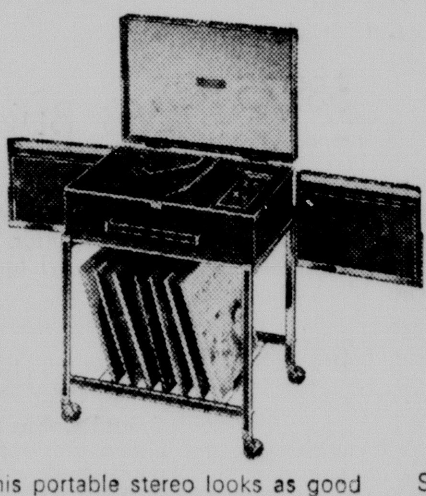
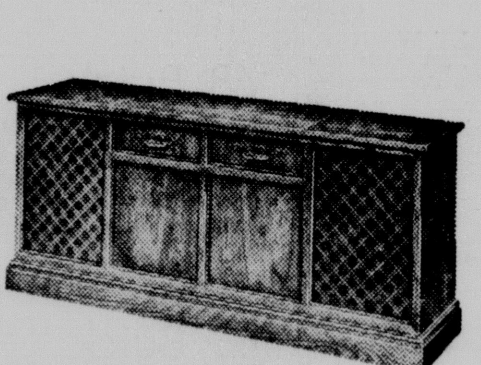
Enjoy big-screen color viewing, and excellent six-speaker sound. Stereo includes FM/AM/FM stereo radio, and automatic 4-speed record changer. LK838E



This portable stereo looks as good as it sounds. Has two high frequency sound horn tweeters, two 6x9-in. speakers, 4-speed automatic changer. Comes with cart. PP227E



Solid-state amplifier produces 150 watts of peak power output (music power 75 watts) to give you excellent stereo sound. Has FM/AM/FM stereo radio, 4-speed changer, and six speakers. SK530E
